W.H.O. ASKS CHINA TO DISCLOSE THE DETAILS OF PNEUMONIA OUTBREAK

The World Health Organization has made an official request to China for information about the spike in respiratory illnesses in children

SPIKE DUE TO LIFTING OF COVID CURBS: CHINA

The UN health agency cited media reports about clusters of undiagnosed pneumonia in children in northern China. According to Chinese authorities, the respiratory illness spike was due to the lifting of Covid-19 restrictions and the circulation of known pathogens, namely influenza and common bacterial infections that affect children, including mycoplasma pneumonia

NEEDS CLOSE MONITORING, SAY EXPERTS

- Experts say the situation warrants close monitoring, but they are not sure that the recent spike in illnesses signalled the start of a new global outbreak
- The emergence of new flu strains or other viruses capable of triggering pandemics typically starts with undiagnosed clusters of respiratory illness. Both SARS and Covid-19 were first reported as unusual types of pneumonia

Top LeT commander, another ultra shot dead

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

TWO terrorists, including a top commander of the Lashkar-e-Toiba (LeT) hailing from Pakistan who had also trained in Afghanistan, were killed in a fierce gunfight in the forest area of Rajouri in J&K on Thursday, ending a two-day encounter there.

A soldier was also killed in the gunfight on Thursday, taking the toll of jawans killed in the encounter to five, including two Captains.

One of the slain terrorists was identified as Qari, who had trained on both in Pakistan and Afghanistan. He was active in the border districts of Rajouri and Poonch along with his LeT group for the past year," an Army official said.

Qari, he added, is believed to be the mastermind of the Dangri and Kandi attacks in Rajouri. On January 1 and 2 this year, militants shot dead seven civilians, including two brothers in Dangri village of Rajouri.

"Qari was an expert in IEDs, operating and hiding in caves, and a trained sniper. He was sent to revive terrorism in the region," the official said.

The Army's Special Forces were also part of the anti-militancy operation in Rajouri.

Meanwhile, a box dropped by a drone was found in the Akhnoor sector near Line of Control in Poonch. One Turkey-made pistol with two magazines, 38 live rounds, nine grenades and one battery-operated IED were found in the box.

Now, unstable base of the auger machine delays further drilling

Work to resume after strengthening platform; wait gets longer for rescue of labourers in tunnel

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

THE 41 labourers who have been stranded in the under-construction tunnel at Silkyara in Uttarakhand's Uttarkashi district for the past 12 days may have to spend another night underground as rescue operations had to be halted on Thursday due to technical hurdles.

On Wednesday night, there was hope that rescue workers would be able to reach the trapped men after three hours of drilling. However, the drilling had to be halted as the base platform on which the 25-tonne auger machine is mounted became unstable due to the rigorous operation. Officials said the platform is being strengthened on a war footing and the rescue mission will start soon.

Colonel Deepak Patil, in-charge of the rescue operation at Silkyara, told this newspaper: "The machine is being lowered on to the ground using CTA bolts. The auger machine will then be brought out. After this, manual tools will be used for digging and steel cutting will be done inside."

Uttarakhand Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami reviews the operation to rescue the 41 workers trapped in the under-construction tunnel at Silkyara on Thursday | PTI

According to official sources, the machine was dislocated due to heavy jerks as a result of pipe load during the drilling. "There is no obstacle in front of the machine at the moment. In such a situation, relief news can come any time after midnight," they said.

Secretary and nodal officer for the rescue mission, Neeraj Khairwal, said: "The work of strengthening the base is going on and the drill will resume. The campaign is likely to be successful by noon."

With a strong sense of hope that they will be rescued from their 'accidental confinement' soon, the stranded workers on Thursday received counselling from Uttarakhand Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami, who has cancelled all his programmes and is monitoring the rescue efforts.

During the CM's interaction with the trapped labourers at the tunnel, psychiatrist Dr Rohit Gondwal also spoke in detail with two labourers, Saba Ahmed and Gabbar Singh Negi. "I did see symptoms of anxiety disorder in the workers, but at the moment, the chances of post-traumatic stress disorder are low," Dr Gondwal said.

Meanwhile, NDMA member Lt Gen Syed Ata Hasnain said the relentless public scrutiny is putting a lot of pressure on the rescue workers.

IMPLICATIONS FOR TN

Guv can't sit on bills, withhold assent, must return them, rules SC

JAISON WILSON @New Delhi

ASSERTING that the constitutional powers of the Governor cannot be used to thwart the normal course of lawmaking by the state legislatures, the Supreme Court said if the unelected head of the state decides to withhold assent to a Bill, it must be returned to the legislature for reconsideration.

"If the Governor decides to withhold assent under the substantive part of Article 200, the logical course of action is to pursue the course indicated in the first proviso of remitting the Bill to the state legislature for reconsideration," a three-judge bench headed by Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud said.

Part of the 27-page judgment authored by CJI Chandrachud on the Punjab government's plea against Governor Banwarilal Purohit, applies to Tamil Nadu as well, as its Governor R N Ravi withheld assent to 10 bills recently but did not send them back to the Assembly, assuming as he did that the legislations were dead. The process of withdrawing assent was a legal gray area till now.

The order said the substantive part of Article 200 empowers the Governor to withhold assent. "In such an event, the Governor must mandatorily follow the course of action which is indicated in the first proviso of communicating to the State Legislature "as soon as possible" a message warranting the reconsideration of the Bill.

The expression "as soon as possible" is significant. It conveys a constitutional imperative of expedition. Failure to take a call and keeping a Bill duly passed for indeterminate periods is a course of action inconsistent with that expression, the order said.

"The concluding part of the first proviso stipulates that if the Bill is passed again by the legislature either with or without amendments, the Governor shall not withhold assent therefrom upon presentation. The concluding phrase "shall not withhold assent therefrom" is a clear indicator that the exercise of the power under the first proviso is relatable to the withholding of the assent by the Governor to the Bill in the first instance," the verdict said.

In other words, the bills resent to the TN Governor by the House after passing them again will have to be approved by him.

Can't be kept pending indefinitely, says court

'Nod for CBI investigation against Shivakumar not in accordance with law'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IN a bid to give relief to Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar in the disproportionate assets (DA) case, the state cabinet on Thursday resolved that the sanction given to the CBI to investigate the case in 2019 by the then BJP government was not in accordance with law.

The government will issue an order to facilitate withdrawal of the case against Shivakumar. The CBI has reportedly completed its investigation and is expected to file a charge sheet before the court soon. Shivakumar, however, kept away from the cabinet meeting.

"We have gone by rules and regulations and after taking the opinion of the Advocate General (AG) of the previous government and of the present AG, the cabinet resolved that it was (sanction given to the CBI) not in accordance with law. We will issue an order in this regard soon," Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister HK Patil told reporters after the meeting.

When his attention was drawn to the Supreme Court's direction of August 2021 that no prosecution against MLAs and MPs will be withdrawn without the permission of the high courts, Patil said, "It has to be elaborated and I will do it later."

"It was after the oral instruction of the then CM (BS Yediyurappa) and without taking the permission of the Speaker of the Assembly, the then government decided to hand over the case to CBI," he said, defending the cabinet's decision. P9

Users hosting deepfakes to face action

RAKESH KUMAR @New Delhi

THE Centre is planning to impose financial penalties on both the creators of deepfakes and the social media platforms where such fake content is hosted, Union telecom and IT minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said on Thursday, adding that the government will soon introduce a new legislation to curb the menace.

On Thursday, the minister held a meeting with various stakeholders including AI companies and social media firms to thrash out ways to deal with the challenge. "After meetings with social media companies, AI companies, industry body NASSCOM, and professors, we collectively concluded that we need to address this issue with very stringent rules. All of us agreed on four pillars: detection of deepfakes and misinformation, prevention of detected deepfakes and misinformation by removing or reducing their impact, strengthening reporting mechanisms, and increasing awareness," he said.

The government's action follows the viral spread of a deepfake video featuring actor Rashmika Mandanna on social media platforms. As the video went viral, many people, including Bollywood veteran Amitabh Bachchan, sought legal action against those responsible for the criminal act.

Then the government issued an advisory to all major social media companies in India against hosting contents that impersonate another person, and to promptly remove such content within 24 hours of receiving complaints. Vaishnaw said the government will continue to engage with the stakeholders to monitor the progress. Another meeting will be held in December to assess the actions taken by the companies and decide what should be incorporated in the draft legislation.

Capt Pranjal finished his schooling at DPS MRPL, and PU from Mahesh PU College, Mangaluru, before he moved to National Defence Academy (NDA) to pursue a career in defense, his childhood dream.

The teachers, students and other staff of the school were preparing for the two-day annual sports meet from Thursday when the news of Capt Pranjal's death reached them. The school postponed the sports meet and declared a holiday to mourn his death. His chemistry and scout's teacher Venkat Rao PG, physics teacher Suma Devi and many alumni of the school left for Bengaluru on Thursday to attend his funeral. The school teachers are devastated over the loss of Capt Pranjal, who was just 28. "November 22 will remain the darkest day for us. Great loss for our school," said Kripa Sanjeev, vice-principal, who taught him biology.

Capt Pranjal shared a close bond with his school and used to send messages to teachers on festivals and birthdays. He visited the school during his holidays. During his visit to the school in June, he told some teachers that he would not be visiting them again anytime soon. Many of his teachers were not aware of his posting in J&K. NCPCR chief booked for remarks against orphanage

THE Devarajeevanahalli (DJ Halli) police have registered a case against Priyank Kanoongo, chairman, National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR), for his statement that children at Darul Uloom Sayeediya Yateemkhana (orphanage) are living a "medieval Taliban life".

The case has been filed based on a complaint by Ashraf Khan, 70, secretary of Darul Uloom Sayeediya Yateemkhana, Kaval Byrasandra.

Kanoongo, who recently visited Khan's orphanage, stated that it has not obtained any permission. Moreover, the orphanage is not providing any basic amenities to its children.

Ashraf Khan said Kanoongo spread false information through his social media posts to create a rift between communities. He initially lauded the orphanage for its facilities and promised financial support for its development. However, Kanoongo made some disappointing comments on social media later.

Kanoongo inspected the orphanage along with some members of NCPCR on November 19. In a letter addressed to the Chief Secretary of the Karnataka Government, the commission stated that the orphanage is not a registered organisation and lacks basic amenities. The commission sought immediate action against the orphanage under the Juvenile Justice (JJ) (Care and Protection of Children) Act.

The commission also marked a copy of the letter to Dayananda KA, Deputy Commissioner and District Magistrate, and urged him to register an FIR against the orphanage. P7

Court shocked at persisting untouchability in rural areas

HC refuses to quash criminal proceedings against 8 accused under SC/ST Prevention of Atrocities Act; trial court asked to speed up case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ALTHOUGH temples are seen to be symbols of unity and inclusivity, denying entry and worship in temples to people of the SC/ST still looms large, said the Karnataka High Court.

Justice M Nagaprasanna made these observations while refusing to quash the criminal proceedings initiated against eight people of the upper caste, under the provisions of Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe (Prevention of Atrocities) Act and IPC, for allegedly assaulting, andhurling abuses in public at a couple belonging to the scheduled caste who entered the Gadi Chowdeshwari temple in Davanagere district.

The petitioners Panduranga Bhat and seven others from Harihara taluk, Davanagere, had challenged the proceedings initiated against them by Savithramma, a resident of Vinayakanagara camp of Harihara, who had filed a complaint with Malebennur police station in 2016.

Rejecting the petition, the court said that it is rather unfortunate that despite the constitutional abolition of any form of untouchability, it still remains and persists in rural areas of the nation...

"This attitude of the petitioners is undoubtedly regressive for they have denied entry into a temple, only on the score that the complainant and her family belong to scheduled caste. This discrimination should stop, and stop forthwith. The fact that it is still prevailing shocks the conscience of the court," the court added.

"Human beings are to be treated as human beings. The deity in the temple cannot even be imagined belonging to a few. Worshipping the deity by entering the temple, is a right to be given to one and all. Any kind of bigotry or discrimination is unacceptable. Trial in such cases cannot be interdicted. There are complete ingredients of the offences so alleged against the petitioners present in the case at hand," the court said.

Savithramma, wife of one Nagappa alleged that special poojas are being held at Gadi Chowdeshwari Temple on every new moon and full moon day in their village. To witness one such pooja, she and her husband along with others sought to visit Gadi Chowdeshwari Temple on the morning of September 17, 2016, at 9 a.m.

At which point, the petitioners along with others were alleged to have stopped the complainants. They allegedly assaulted her and her husband including the child and hurled several abuses against them taking the name of the caste and preventing them from entering the temple.

Since the complaint was filed in 2016, the high court directed the trial court to make an endeavour to complete proceedings as expeditiously as possible, within 6 months.

Peak-hour Metros burst at seams, second women's coach mooted

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A ride on Namma Metro, which was once relaxing and comfortable, is today a breathless and punishing affair for most commuters on the Purple Line. It has been 45 days since the launch of the KR Pura-Baiyappanahalli stretch, with the ridership averaging 6.5 lakh a day for November, but the number of trains remains 52 to cover the 73.81-km network. There is no solution in sight for now.

Hapless security staff and Home Guards on platforms have a tough time regulating the surging crowds that flow in and out of trains; a few even have to push people in so that the automated doors close. At many stations, passengers inside the coahces scream out "Jagah illa, jagah illa (no space)" to those trying to board. Every platform has a few passengers who fail to squeeze into the packed trains and have to wait for the next one.

TNIE had a chat with a number of commuters on both lines about their Metro experiences.

Senior citizen Rakesh Gowda had this to say, "First ensure another coach for women in every train. I feel miserable to see the way they are crushed. How is this allowed in the first place? This was exactly the scene in BTS buses in the 80s and 90s."

Ruksana Khanna, who commutes daily from MG Road to Deepanjali Nagar, agrees. "There is not even an inch available in the Ladies coach during peak hours. I am forced to travel in the general coach. It has been a struggle for the past month." Women commuters, especially, felt the ease of travelling by Metro has vanished.

Three colleagues returning from Vidhana Soudha to their homes in Jayanagar were rushing to change trains at the interchange station at Kempegowda. When TNIE asked if they get a place to sit, they started laughing. The man, requesting anonymity, said, "We don't even have an inch to stand. No one dares to think of a seat, but Metro ride is faster and cheaper. Only one plea to the government: please reduce the time between trains."

Jyoti V, a regular commuter from Malleswaram to Rajarajeshwari Nagar, said, "If I miss the 9.03 am train, the next is only at 9.13 am. Trains no more run at 4 or 5-minute frequency during peak hours, like Metro authorities claim. I always find trains running with a 10-minute gap." The need to reduce the time gap between trains was a plea made by almost every commuter.

Ornamental fisheries market makes ₹100 cr

NAMRATA SINDWANI
@ Bengaluru

SOME buy it for decorative purposes, some, to spread positive vibes at home. The ornamental fisheries market in Bengaluru is growing, with an overall monthly market revenue coming up to around Rs 100 crore, according to Fisheries Research and Information Centre.

Dr Chethan N, Fisheries Scientist, Karnataka Animal and Fisheries Sciences University (KAFSU), said that previously the fisheries business was very scattered, however, in the past five years, there has been a 15-20 percent rise in the business. The city has around 2,500 retail shops running a profitable business, he added.

The KAFSU displayed fishes like Goldfish, Guppy, Sword Tale, Molly and Widow Tetras at the recently organised Krishi Mela 2023 in the city. Dr Chethan said that the Goldfish was the most sold ornamental fish followed by Guppy. They sold close to 800 small fishes within a day of commencement of the mela.

Now the fisheries business for both edible and ornamental fishes is much more streamlined and farmers are seen adopting pisciculture as an alternative source of income. The state fisheries department is also taking measures to bring Karnataka at par with Tamil Nadu and West Bengal which have a well established fishery business. A training programme was recently organised for 50 farmers to educate them about the ornamental fish business, help create a small ecosystem within their land, create optimal environment for breeding fishes, and use of appropriate equipment to achieve end results.

Use of plastic garlands for felicitation, a threat to environment

PURAN CHOUDHARY
@ Bengaluru

IN Bengaluru, on average, at least 20 events are organised in a month, be it government events, private functions or programmes by colleges, civic societies or residential welfare groups. All of these events have a similar format of felicitation or celebratory segment, where the chief guest is usually presented with a garland.

The non-reusable plastic used in the garlands end up producing more waste which ends up in landfills.

Activists have urged government bodies and citizen to take a hard look at the items used to felicitate in these events, reassess their choices and shift to sustainable methods. "Plastic garlands look grand for the occasion, but these garlands have no value post the event. They end up being a part of the mixed waste category," said Dr Shanti Tummala, an environmentalist.

She added that in the recent Kannada Rajyotsava Awards or the Kempegowda Awards these plastic garlands were used, and noted that different types of plastic, and thermocol balls are used for this garlands. Even the string used in the garland is plastic. "No amount of segregation can make these single-use plastic reusable. Even the bouquets which seem biodegradable, is covered in a cloth-like material that is made of polypropylene plastic," she explained. Vasuki Iyengar, a member of the Solid Waste Management Round Table (SWMRT) said, "The dry waste collection centres in the city are not equipped to recycle them, and they are also not part of the banned items."

Raj, founder of the Indian Ploggers Army who organises regular cleaning drives in the city, said we find these garlands thrown near temples or lakes. "Even the waste pickers don't have the time to cut every thread and put the waste in different categories."

NGOs suggest mindful methods of felicitation, and suggest to opt potted plants or redeemable e-gifts, or gifts from organisations that create innovative products out of drywaste, instead of using plastic.

ACP files plaint against inspector over graft charges

RISHITA KHANNA @ Bengaluru

THE Assistant Commissioner of Police (ACP) of the Byatarayanapura sub-division has filed a complaint against a former police inspector of Byatarayanapura station under the Prevention of Corruption Act.

ACP Bharath S Reddy, in his complaint filed with the Byatarayanapura police on Wednesday, has levelled serious allegations against Inspector Shankar Naik GK and his accomplice Loknath Singh, for investigating a case that occurred in Hoskote police station limits. Naik is accused of investigating the case with the sole intent of recovering Rs 75 lakh in cash that was stolen by a businessman's driver.

"Santosh, the car driver of businessman Harish, had stolen Rs 75 lakh from the latter in Hoskote in 2022. Singh is accused of bringing the matter to the notice of Naik, who was serving as the inspector at Byatarayanapura station. Naik managed to recover Rs 72 lakh from Santosh and allegedly diverted it for personal use, rather than keeping it in the police station or depositing it in the government treasury," an officer said.

"When the matter came to the notice of senior officers, Naik allegedly made Harish's friend John forge the businessman's signature in a fabricated complaint in order to make it look like a genuine case, on October 12, 2022. He had also completed the formalities of entering the details of the recovered money, which were all in Rs 500 denomination," the officer added.

As per the complaint filed by the ACP, upon Naik's transfer from Byatarayanapura station on January 27, 2023, he reportedly failed to hand over the seized amount and station charge to the newly posted inspector.

Naik was served repeated notices to either hand over the money to the new inspector or to deposit it in the state treasury. Naik finally brought Rs 72 lakh on February 26 to the police station with different denominations than the ones that were seized. Subsequently, the court ordered that the seized money be handed over to the Income Tax Department and a team of I-T officials approached the Byatarayanapura police on April 19 to take the money.

"The complaint has been filed due to the irregularities committed by Naik. Along with the Prevention of Corruption Act, the case has also been registered for causing the disappearance of evidence and giving false information (IPC 201), criminal breach of trust by a public servant (IPC 409), forgery (IPC 465), along with another section of the IPC," the officer added.

QUADRUPLE MURDER

ACCUSED KILLED AYNAZ AFTER SHE STOPPED TALKING TO HIM

SP says two were good friends, accused had got her house, bike

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Udupi

THE accused in the quadruple murder, Praveen Arun Chougule (39), killed his junior colleague Aynaz (21) and three of her family members, after Aynaz stopped speaking to him.

Udupi SP Dr Arun K told reporters on Thursday that Praveen's friendship with Aynaz had soured after she stopped speaking to him a month ago. Prior to that, he was very friendly with her for eight months, and had helped Aynaz get a house where she lived with her sister Afnan. Praveen had also given Aynaz his two-wheeler.

"He was over-possessive, and was upset after she stopped speaking to him. So he came to her house in Tripthi Nagara, Nejar, under Malpe police station limits on November 12, by tracking the location through an app, and went on a killing spree. He spoke to her for about 30 seconds inside the house, then stabbed her with a knife. Her mother Haseena (46), elder sister Afnan (23) and her younger brother Aseem (12), who tried to intervene, were also killed," the SP added. Chougule works as a cabin crew member with a private airline where Aynaz was his junior colleague. The SP, however, ruled out any smuggling angle, as pointed out by some unverified reports. ''We have probed that angle too, but the accused had a good income to lead a good life," he said.

He said that Praveen had not visited the victim's house in Tripthi Nagara in the past, and tracked the location through an app. "He has no prior criminal record in Karnataka. He previously worked with Pune City Police in 2007, and during his training period, he reportedly secured this job with an attractive salary," the SP added.

In view of the gravity of the situation, the prisons department has been directed to increase security and take extra precautions, and give Praveen a separate cell in the district prison, Hiriyadka, the Udupi SP informed. Though an Udupi court had granted 14 days of police custody, police had completed all procedures, including collecting evidence and spot mahazar and produced him before court on Wednesday. He was remanded in judicial custody till December 5.

NCPCR chief's charge baseless: Muslim body

ENS @ Bengaluru

AMEER-E-Shariat, one of the leading Muslim organisations in Karnataka, and Pulakeshi Nagar MLA AC Srinivas have termed the allegation of National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR) chairperson Priyank Kanoongo that Muslim orphanages lack basic amenities and children living there are denied basic amenities, as baseless.

In a video message, Moulana Sageer Ahmed Khan, chief of Ameer-E-Shariat, stated that there are chances of attacks on madrasas and other Islamic centres across the country in the wake of this allegation.

A group of people, including Kanoongo, visited Darul Uloom Sayideeya Yateemkhana (orphanage) at Kaval Byrasandra in the city on Sunday and checked the facilities there. Before leaving the yateemkhana, they said, "Everything is fine there." After leaving the yateemkhana, Kanoongo alleged that the inmates are not given good food. The yateemkhana has no proper rooms for them to sleep. He made this allegation on social media, Khan said and termed it baseless.

The moulana said that children at the yateemkhana are taught the basic tenets of Islam and the importance of nationalism. He appealed to madrasas and yateemkhanas not to allow people to enter them without verifying their credentials.

Srinivas said that he had visited the yateemkhana and found nothing disturbing there.

THE Karnataka government is making efforts to withdraw the existing Agricultural Produce Market Committee (APMC) Act and is likely to place it before the legislative session at Belagavi. The Congress has been opposing amendments to the APMC Act, that allows private individuals to set up markets outside APMC yards to procure goods from farmers.

In July this year, the state government made an attempt to withdraw the Act by placing the 'Karnataka Agricultural Produce Marketing (Regulation and Development) (Amendment) Bill, 2023'. It failed to get clearance in the Upper House, as the Bharatiya Janata Party and Janata Dal (Secular) opposed it. Later, it was referred to a select committee headed by APMC Minister Shivananda Patil.

Official sources from the department said the select committee has completed meetings at a few places, including Kolar and Shivamogga, and is expected to hold a few more meetings. "Once it is done, the committee is likely to recommend withdrawal of the Act," sources said. The government is likely to place this before the assembly during the session in Belagavi next month. "It will be done soon," an official said.

The new proposed bill aims to bring back restrictions on agricultural trading and allow selling at APMCs. It had stressed on helping 162 APMCs across the state earn revenue through cess, year-long employment for workers, cart men and increased revenue for APMCs, which had reduced after the new Act was passed in Karnataka.

In May 2020, during BS Yediyurappa's tenure as chief minister, the BJP government had passed the ordinance on the APMC Bill, which was passed in December 2020, and the Act was notified in January 2021.

Later, though the Union government repealed the farm laws, the then BJP government in the state did not. Many traders and Opposition leaders had pressured the Basavaraj Bommai regime to withdraw the Act, but it was not done. The Congress had been opposing it and even listed its withdrawal in its manifesto.

Siddu in hurry to accept report: LoP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

LEADER of Opposition in the assembly R Ashoka said Chief Minister Siddaramaiah is in a hurry to receive the caste census report to please his party's central leaders.

The BJP leader said though the original draft of the report was missing, the member secretary of the commission had not signed the report, and many communities had termed it 'unscientific', the CM was in a hurry to receive it. He questioned why no complaint was filed or probe ordered into the original draft going missing, and if it's correct to prepare a report based on such data.

He said the BJP favours giving reservation proportionate to the population of communities, but is opposed to taking any action based on the "unscientific and controversial" report. If the government is truly committed, let it order for a fresh survey and also talk to seers and leaders who are opposing the caste census report, he added. He also warned the government of launching statewide protests if it accepts the report in a hurry.

Former chief minister Basavaraj Bommai said Siddaramaiah was raking up the caste census issue due to the fast-approaching Lok Sabha elections.

Bommai said the survey had not been done properly by the Backward Classes Commission due to a lack of consensus between the chairman and members. Besides, there was political interference. Siddaramaiah had kept quiet, despite these happenings. "At that time, he had not received the report, but is now trying to gain political mileage ahead of parliamentary polls. The BJP will announce its stand on the report after it is submitted to the government," he added.

Caste census: CM urges people not to jump to conclusions

WITH the caste census creating a furore even before the State Government accepted the report, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has urged people not to form opinions merely on the basis of speculations.

Addressing the media in Bagalkot on Thursday, the CM suggested people to wait until the report is submitted to the government. "We still do not know what is in the report. In fact, nobody knows anything about the contents of the report. When such is the reality, why make assumptions and come to a conclusion?" he wondered. On reports that the hard copy of the report is missing, Siddaramaiah said that he would speak to the chairman of the Karnataka State Commission for Backward Classes Jayaprakash Hegde about it.

Lambasting state JDS president and former CM HD Kumaraswamy for his allegations that the Congress government is trying to divide the society with the caste census report, Siddaramaiah asked whether the farmer knows anything about the matter the report contains.

Wondering how society gets divided by caste census, Siddaramaiah asked whether the society got divided in Bihar when Nitish Kumar accepted the caste census report of his state.

"Let there be anybody, including a former CM or a common man... they should not react without knowing the facts," he reiterated.

Commenting on the elevation of BY Vijayendra as the state BJP chief and R Ashoka as the Leader of Opposition in the Assembly, Siddaramaiah said the discontent within the BJP has exploded with the appointment.

"Now, there is fire within the BJP after the appointments. I don't know whether it will turn into an inferno or not in the coming days", he said, adding that no BJP leader is in touch with him. "Anyone who wishes to join the Congress by accepting the party's ideology are welcome," he added.

SIDDARAMAIAH PROMISES BHOVI STUDY CENTRE

Speaking after inaugurating a bhavan named after Sharanabasava Appangal, the deity of the community on Thursday, he said that he had in the past promised to constitute Bhovi Development Corporation. "And I kept my word," he said.

Former panel chief refutes charges, says report is scientific

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

Former chairman of the State Backward Classes Commission H Kantharaju on Thursday said that the 'socio-economic and education survey' was done scientifically and it is not right to call it unscientific.

Speaking to reporters, he said commenting without even having seen the report is prejudging the matter and that should not happen.

Leaders from Vokkaliga and Lingayat communities have termed the report unscientific and incomplete and have urged the State Government not to accept it. The study was commissioned by the Congress government headed by Siddaramaiah in 2014 when H Kantharaju was the chairman of the commission. The report is yet to be submitted to the government.

Kantharaju said that during the survey, they asked 55 questions, including information like assets, agricultural land holdings, and caste was one of the questions. He said the work done by the commission is the property of the government.

On the member secretary of the commission not signing the report, Kantharaju said the secretary signed the commission's decision to send the report to the government and it can be accepted by the government.

THE appointment of MLA BY Vijayendra as the state Bharatiya Janata Party president has caused much trouble to the saffron party ahead of the Lok Sabha elections as several senior party leaders in the state are publicly expressing their dissatisfaction.

On Thursday, former minister V Somanna said that he is disappointed with Vijayendra's appointment.

Speaking to reporters in Mysuru, where he was to attend a private function, Somanna said that he will share the details of his 45 years of political career and future course of action after December 6. "It is my responsibility to share the details to my people. But I have directives from senior party leaders not to speak before December 6," he said.

On BJP leader Aravind Limbavali's remark that Vijayendra and R Ashoka were appointed as party chief and Leader of Opposition, respectively, for their adjustment politics with the Opposition parties, Somanna said that he fully endorses the statement of Limbavali.

"At present, the state of BJP in Karnataka is like Somanahali Muduki Kathe (famous story of an old lady of Somanahalli village who believed that the Sun rises only after her rooster clucks in the morning). As per the directives from the party high command, I had worked 24 hours a day in the constituencies during Assembly elections. I will explain how I am affected," the former minister said.

Somanna said that BJP leaders Limbavali, former CM Basavaraj Bommai and Ramesh Jarkiholi have expressed their dissatisfaction on the appointments of Vijayendra and Ashok. "Politics is not a drama or a circus or restricted to one family. It is not an internal understanding. I will speak about everything after December 6. Neither BS Yediyurappa nor any BJP leader has contacted me nor have I tried to contact any leader," he said.

Cong viewed Dalits as vote bank, says BYV

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Bharatiya Janata Party is galvanising Dalit support as it gradually moves into pre-election mode.

The party, that hiked SC and ST reservation just months before the 2023 election, did not gain any votes, and instead, saw a drop of 10 seats in the assembly polls.

This time, the party has aggressively lined up several programmes to gain SC/ST votes in the Lok Sabha election.

On Thursday, BJP state president BY Vijayendra slammed the Congress, asking, "After continuously seeking votes for five decades in the name of Dr Ambedkar, what benefit have they given the Dalits? Will it take 50-60 years to uplift the community?" He was speaking at the inaugural meeting of the state SC Morcha at the BJP state office 'Jagannath Bhavan' in Malleswaram.

Acutely aware that Dalits had en bloc supported the Congress, one of the reasons being Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge is a Dalit, and the BJP has been striving hard to overcome the advantage the Congress has.

"The Congress had seen Dalits as just a vote-bank and failed to provide justice to the community," Vijayendra said.

He raised the issue of former Congress MLA Akhanda Srinivasamurthy's house being set on fire but being denied a ticket for the sake of minority votes.

SC Morcha state president Chalavadi Narayanaswamy, who moved from the Congress to the BJP, said, "Our government has given many programmes for Dalits. It made 11,000 pourakarmikas permanent. The Congress government used Rs 11,700 crore of funds meant for Dalits, to provide guarantee schemes."

Vijayendra pacifies 'upset' Ramesh

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

NEWLY appointed Karnataka BJP president BY Vijayendra called on Gokak MLA Ramesh Jarkiholi at the latter's Sadashivanagar residence in Bengaluru on Thursday morning.

This comes days after Ramesh opposed the elevation of Vijayendra as state BJP chief and also R Ashoka as the Leader of Opposition in the Assembly. Ramesh had stormed out of the BJP legislature party meeting recently after leaders from South Karnataka were chosen for the posts ignoring leaders from North Karnataka. Besides Ramesh, Vijayapura City MLA Basangouda Patil Yatnal and Dharwad MLA Arvind Bellad too had questioned the party's move.

Vijayendra and Ramesh met for about 30 minutes over breakfast. According to sources, Ramesh spoke on several issues which he had been facing in the BJP.

Speaking to media persons after the meeting, Vijayendra said he would take the statements issued by senior BJP leaders seriously and attempt to take all of them together.

Vijayendra said he had a discussion with Ramesh on making a concerted effort to help the party win maximum number of seats in the 2024 Lok Sabha elections in Karnataka.

"During the discussion, Ramesh spoke on several problems he has been facing. As state party president, I will try my best to take all the leaders in the state together by taking them into confidence. I will also fulfil all the responsibilities which the party top leadership has vested on me," Vijayendra, the MLA from Shikaripura, said.

CENTRE SEES T'GANA AS AN ENEMY: KTR

REINFORCING the State's "growth statement" with the help of a presentation titled "Trailblazer Telangana", BRS working president KT Rama Rao on Thursday said that an "inimical government" at the Centre is treating states like its enemy if the ruling parties are not politically aligned. He also accused the Centre of arm-twisting agencies which are giving loans to the State.

In his presentation that lasted close to an hour, the minister focused on change of sociopolitical dynamics of the state, increase in per capita income, GSDP, alleviation of poverty, irrigation, Mission Bhagiratha, Mission Kakatiya, education, health, electricity and agriculture, among other sectors.

Stating that despite facing many teething problems as a newly formed State, Telangana emerged as a progressive state within a decade, Rama Rao said and added that Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao constructed Kaleshwaram and other irrigation projects by spending Rs 1.70 lakh crore. KCR's vision helped Telangana overcome the drought-like situation.

He also highlighted that Telangana leads in per capita income in the country, besides being one of the fastest-growing states in terms of GSDP. "More importantly, Telangana reduced multidimensional poverty from 13.18% in 2014 to 5.8% in 2023," Rama Rao said. Claiming that agriculture production has increased drastically in the state, he said that the Telangana region was ranked at No. 14 before state formation and is now at No. 1 in paddy production surpassing even Punjab and Haryana. The BRS working president added that the acreage increased from 131 lakh acres in 2014 to 268 lakh acres in 2023. He attributed the growth to extending Rythu Bandhu and Rythu Bima, providing 24x7 free power and irrigation water by constructing projects like Kaleshwaram.

Asking the people to select between current (electricity) and Congress, Rama Rao said, "If Congress gets power, people will lose power."

NEED TO BRING MORE CONSTITUTIONAL CLARITY TO GOVERNORS' POWERS

THE institution of the governor is again creating waves after the relative calmness that followed the Supreme Court's landmark judgement in the S R Bommai case. That judgement clipped the wings of governors, some of whom had frequently dismissed state governments and recommended President's rule under Article 356 of the Constitution. The accusation of governors acting as political instruments of the central government is not new. The largescale dismissals of state governments by the Janata Party in 1977 and by the Congress in 1980 were the heights of the misuse of Article 356. Things improved a bit when the Bommai judgement in 1994 made it difficult for the party ruling at the Centre to dismiss state governments—it made ratification by the two houses of parliament mandatory, and the dismissal open to judicial review. The Rabri Devi government in Bihar had to be reinstated by the Vajpayee government due to the lack of support for its dismissal in the Rajya Sabha.

The use of Article 356 has come down, but the governor's role continues to be seen as controversial. The state governments of Tamil Nadu, Kerala, Punjab, Chhattisgarh and West Bengal—run by parties opposed to the one ruling at the Centre—are at loggerheads with their governors. Four of them have approached the Supreme Court seeking redress. The most common complaint is that governors are refusing to clear bills passed by the legislative assembly. Chhattisgarh's Congress government has been complaining about the governor's refusal to give assent to a bill seeking higher reservations for SCs, STs and OBCs. West Bengal is unhappy with its governor over the appointment of university vice-chancellors, among other issues. One of the problems in Punjab is peculiar—the governor has refused to allow the government to convene the state assembly. In Tamil Nadu, after the state government complained that the governor had delayed assent on as many as 12 bills, the governor referred two of those to the president. Other complaints include delays in sanction of grants, release of prisoners and appointments.

The Supreme Court has repeatedly expressed disapproval over such conduct by governors. The court's judgement on the Punjab case, uploaded Thursday, clarified that governors cannot veto bills. The framers of the Constitution had perhaps not foreseen how the governor's role would evolve. The time has come to strengthen the Constitution and bring more clarity to the roles and responsibilities of the governor.

CONG MUST COME CLEAN ON FAKE ID ALLEGATION

ANY internal electoral process is expected to reinvigorate a political party. So the recent election for Youth Congress office bearers in Kerala was looked upon with great anticipation. The state unit has been going through a rough patch for quite a while, especially after the party lost power for the second time on the trot. This internal election was expected to infuse some much-needed energy into the party's rank and file. This time, 7.43 lakh Youth Congress members cast their votes and Rahul Mamkootathil was chosen president.

But the positive spirit was short-lived as some Youth Congress leaders raised allegations of bogus voting. They sent complaints to the All India Congress Committee (AICC) and asked for the election to be annulled. The issue was soon picked up by opposition parties. BJP state president K Surendran wrote on X (formerly Twitter), "A faction of the Congress created bogus voter ID cards for the Youth Congress election. It is a serious offence. These fake voter IDs can be used in the general elections. It can also be used to buy SIM cards. A Congress MLA is directly involved." The CPM joined in, too, with its secretary M V Govindan saying it was a serious matter that needed a comprehensive investigation by agencies including the Election Commission of India. The matter went beyond party politics when the chief electoral officer of Kerala, Sanjay M Kaul, directed the police to investigate the complaints. A state police team tasked with the probe has confiscated a bunch of fake IDs and has taken four workers—who are reportedly close to the incumbent Youth Congress president—into custody.

The national leadership of the Congress has remained silent despite the fact that the election was conducted directly by the AICC. The state leadership, too, has not done any damage control apart from flatly denying any malpractice. The Election Commission, meanwhile, has sent a second notice to the Kerala Pradesh Congress seeking an explanation, as the latter did not respond to the first letter. All these developments have come at a time when the Congress has its hands full in trying to put the ruling front on the mat. National and state Congress leaders must come forward to clean up the mess before it is too late—the party's credibility is at stake.

QUICK TAKE

MORE NON-AC TRAIN COACHES NEEDED

INDIANS preferring non-AC train travel have found the going tougher because of the government's focus on ramping up AC coaches. The Railways plan to produce 2,765 AC three-tier coaches and only 138 sleeper coaches in 2023-24. This privileges richer Indians—AC three-tier fares are 1.8 times costlier than sleeper class ones. It also makes non-AC travel on some lines unbearably congested. Recent data analysis shows the coach change was more the norm between 2009-10 and 2019-20 than an aberration. More than 95 percent of all passengers this year have travelled by non-AC coaches. The government should make more space for the overwhelming majority.

Some Myanmarese groups have coalesced against the junta with a little help from the US. The region will be in peril if it goes the way Afghanistan did

WHAT HAPPENS IN MYANMAR MAY NOT STAY IN MYANMAR

M K BHADRAKUMAR

SOUMYADIP SINHA

THE security situation developing in Myanmar holds long-term geo-strategic consequences for the integrity of India's north-eastern region. A scenario like in the Khyber Pakhtunkhwa province of Pakistan is quite possibly in the making. Analogies are never perfect fits, but they can help draw attention to key features and conceptual boundaries of an emergent situation being learned and probably make it easier for decision-makers to navigate their way in the highly complex matrix in Myanmar.

No one is asking the obvious question: are the developments in Myanmar taking place in a strategic vacuum? Framed differently, who stands to gain? Myanmar is an ethnic mosaic like Afghanistan or India and has had a long history of insurgencies. But this time around, the mosaic is showing signs of fault lines breaking up under the weight of external intervention.

What has helped Myanmar survive ethnic strife so far is that the insurgent groups could never coalesce into a united front and outside intervention was virtually non-existent. The reason for this was that the Burmans, the Sino-Tibetan ethnic group who constitute Myanmar's largest ethnic group, accounted for an estimated 70 percent of the country's population—comparable to the 'critical mass' of the Hindu population in India—whereas the insurgent groups were drawn from the non-Burman groups in the country, many of which had converted to Christianity. And there are over 135 indigenous ethnic groups in Myanmar.

However, there has been a phenomenal shift in the recent past. In a little over a year, these ethnic insurgent groups have been encouraged by external forces to join hands with the armed civilian groups called People's Defence Forces, the military wing of the country's self-declared National Unity Government (NUG) in exile opposing military rule. Simply put, what distinguishes the current situation is an unprecedented level of coordination between disparate non-Burman ethnic groups and the Burman-dominated NUG in exile. Suffice to say, western intelligence has done a masterly job to manage this transition.

Significantly, even as the anti-government militant surge by the NUG has led to wild speculations that a regime change in Myanmar is around the corner, in a brilliant piece of 'psy war', the curtain has been lifted on the NUG in exile. Last week, the New York Times disclosed that "the American headquarters" of the NUG is located in Washington DC, in a building just three blocks from the White House.

NUG officials routinely testify before the Congress. Last December, President Joe Biden signed the so-called Burma Act, which calls for sanctions on those who quashed Myanmar's reforms and gave "non-lethal aid" to pro-democracy forces. Traditionally, Myanmar was never a foreign policy priority for the US but that has changed against the backdrop of the Biden administration's dual containment strategy against China and Russia. The same thing is happening vis-à-vis Bangladesh.

There have been reports that western intelligence agencies mastermind the regime change agenda in Myanmar from their base camp in Thailand—training the militants, coordinating with the ethnic militia groups and fine-tuning the broad strategy or the big picture. Last week, a report in the prominent Russian daily Izvestia titled, 'The Burmese Triangle: How the US is fuelling the conflict in Myanmar', highlighted the strategic implications for China and India. The article acknowledged that "the military administration that came to power [in Myanmar] has not faced a greater threat than it is now. Interim President Myint Shwe said that the country would be on the verge of collapse if the military could not suppress the resistance".

The report added, "The current situation is turning against Beijing itself. Instability on the border may hinder Chinese investments in the region and even ambitions to create a global economic corridor. For China, Myanmar is important as a country that plays a vital role in the implementation of the Belt and Road Initiative. A transport corridor to the deep-water port of Kyaukpyu, which is being built by the Chinese, should pass through it, as well as oil and gas pipelines built in 2013-2017 that are of strategic importance to the PRC."

Importantly, however, the daily brushed aside the feverish talk of any "impending collapse" of Myanmar and alluded to "negotiations between Moscow and Naypyidaw about the possible deployment of a Russian naval base and sending a 'limited contingent' to help the 'friendly regime'," quoting expert opinion. Evidently, not all ethnic minorities are fighting Naypyidaw because they lack resources. The point is, there are about 66 armed formations in the territory of Myanmar, their strength varying between several hundreds and 2,000–3,000 militants. But there have been reports about Washington stepping up arms supplies to the militant wing of the opposition. The rebels are not only supplied with lethal weapons but are also trained in subversive activities.

On the other hand, the Myanmar military has remained the only force keeping the country from chaos through the past five decades, and the destruction of the army will actually mean catastrophe for Burmese statehood. This can undermine the stability and relative prosperity of the entire Southeast Asian region in general. The spectre that haunts Myanmar is that the country may fall victim to the fratricidal strife fuelled by the West for geopolitical purposes and descend into chaos, as has happened to Afghanistan.

A think tanker at the Centre for Policy Research in Delhi was recently quoted as saying, "It is high time that New Delhi looks beyond its narrow relationship with the junta and starts seriously engaging… with the NUG." This recommendation must be music to American ears. But it is a dangerous thought process, as Pakistan's tragic experience shows—projecting power into next-door Afghanistan at the behest of Washington. Pakistan's downhill slide began when Zia ul Haq blithely allowed his country's remote borderlands to be the hunting ground of the Central Intelligence Agency to wage the Afghan Jihad.

UNIVERSAL HEALTH COVER IS A TRUDGE, DIGITAL HAND CAN HELP

DR SOHAM D BHADURI
Health policy specialist and chief editor of The Indian Practitioner

IN a post-Covid world that has redefined multilateralism in health, India is getting increasingly recognised as a significant global player. About five decades ago, with the ascendant wave of neoliberalism, global health started getting multipolar, with behemoths such as the World Bank carving out a dominant niche in the field, overshadowing a lumbering and highly bureaucratic World Health Organization (WHO). But today's multilateralism aims to be more diversified, coordinated and inclusive, with the WHO retaining its central coordinating role amid aspirations to modernise it. This modernisation entails appreciating the multifaceted nature of modern health challenges, requiring multilateral and synergistic coalitions involving both the public and private sectors. The reality is no different at the national and sub-national levels.

Earlier this year, the chief executive of an English hospital said that the UK National Health Service (NHS) was "locked in a death spiral". Many Western and Central Asian nations today are staring at acute shortages of manpower in healthcare. Traditionally heralded social democratic models such as the NHS are floundering not necessarily due to inherent design defects, but due to inadequate investments. At the same time, liberal and conservative systems are forced to reconcile their own challenges and embrace inexorable transitions.

How do these transitions occur in reality? As a 2023 report on the NHS notes, radical transformations of health systems are rarely realised despite high-minded ideas. Rather, countries need to build on their existing systems, overlaying reforms and best practices incrementally. The result is a 'messy' health system comprising a multitude of players and policies operating together. This approach shines a light on India's road ahead to universal health coverage (UHC). And it will pivot on one important element—data and digital technology.

It is safe to assume that it would be rather utopian for India today to have a UHC predominantly run by the public sector. The radical increase in public investments, shrugging off of a mammoth private sector, and cross-cutting political and social consensus that such a system would entail are likely to become more elusive with passing time. At the same time, a rejig of Indian healthcare looks to be on the cards. This can be seen to comprise roughly two parts: reorganisation of service provisions and influx of new players, policies and care arrangements, each playing its part in putting together the UHC puzzle.

Currently, India aims to attain UHC through expansion of the Ayushman Bharat-Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana (AB-PMJAY), the flagship publicly financed health insurance (PFHI) scheme of the Union government. Expanding PFHIs would entail bringing a large chunk of the private sector under the public fold. Today's fragmented provider landscape would consolidate into bigger integrated networks like the accountable care organisations in the US. Outpatient care, which so far has remained a conspicuous omission under PFHIs, would steadily insinuate itself into the purview of insurance.

EXPRESS

The public sector cannot be the only solution for universal health coverage in India. Any expansion will be complex, but data and digital technology can smoothen the way

With efficiency considerations reigning supreme, current redundancies, particularly in private care, will need to be increasingly dispensed with, resulting in greater regionalisation of care. Greater attention to task shifting, particularly in primary care and home- and community-based models of care delivery, is likely. This will compound the work of state- and district-level agencies whose capacity to administer public-private coalitions will need to be buttressed.

The AB-PMJAY itself would see a dichotomous financing pattern, with contributory insurance for the non-poor even as the government continues to finance the premiums for poorer segments. A major chunk of the middle and upper classes are likely to stick to private health insurance, which will warrant its own set of reforms to alleviate market imperfections and make it more attractive, affordable and accessible. As imperfect as the resultant picture looks, practically speaking such a muddling through would be the practical way forward if India is to attain UHC in the foreseeable future. This proves that health systems are complex and healthcare challenges can't be solved with elegant, universal and fixed solutions.

It is here that India's leadership in digital health becomes significant. Under India's G20 presidency, the WHO has launched a Global Initiative on Digital Health aiming to marshal investments into digital health and facilitate regional and international exchange and reporting on health. India's own indigenous digital health movement, the Ayushman Bharat Digital Mission, preceded this initiative and is steadily gathering steam. At this juncture, it is crucial to enunciate a renewed philosophy of digital health and health data which looks beyond just its commonly understood advantages.

Digital health must be seen as a tool for effectively managing the inevitably complex nature of UHC expansion. It is obvious that the messier the health system gets, the stronger will be the need for better data and a seamless digital infrastructure. Here, it will have a wide-ranging role to play, right from helping administer diverse contracts to implementing terms for value-based provider reimbursement and incentives. A recent audit report of AB-PMJAY from the auditor general shows how the PFHIs' challenges need not entail an outright dismissal of the insurance model. A robust digital and data infrastructure can address most of the challenges. Meanwhile, a shift towards a public sector-dominant model would remain as laborious and improbable as ever.

There are some caveats to consider here. India is not alone in this journey. Many low- and middle-income countries are also looking to build on their existing systems to expand UHC for their citizens. The Indian example could be instructive for them in terms of policy lessons. Pervasive staff shortages in the West and initiatives such as 'Heal in India' could accelerate the medical brain drain even as we suffer major staff shortages of our own. It will be imperative that national interests don't lose ground to international ambitions and that digital technologies are leveraged to create non-competing solutions that are mindful of the Global South.

In this high-tech era, there is major global environmental pollution which contributes to global warming. House portal login protocol tweaked

After cash-for-querry row involving Mahua Moitra, access to staff of the MPs curtailed

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

AHEAD of the winter session of Parliament, the Lok Sabha has modified access protocols for the Digital Sansad portal for the personal assistants and secretaries of parliamentarians.

This comes in the wake of the cash-for-query allegations against Trinamool Congress MP Mahua Moitra, who has been accused of sharing her login details with business tycoon Darshan Hiranandani, allowing him to post questions directly to the portal.

On November 9, the Lok Sabha Ethics Committee recommended Moitra's expulsion from LS, citing a serious breach of parliamentary rules.

A controversy erupted in October when BJP MP Nishikant Dubey accused Moitra of accepting bribes from Hiranandani in exchange for raising parliamentary questions.

According to the new protocol, PAs can only save notices as drafts, with lawmakers required to file them from their accounts. "A PA/PS can only submit draft notices, final notices can only be submitted by the honorable member," reads the new notification on the tab called 'E-Notice' on Digital Sansad.

Previously, PAs of MPs could access the tab E-Notice to file documents related to the legislative branch. This included parliament questions, requests for short-duration and zero-hour discussions, draft bills, and amendments.

Speaking to this newspaper, a personal secretary of a Lok Sabha MP said that he came to know about the change while trying to submit questions on the portal on November 13. There was no official bulletin on this, he said.

"When we checked with the National Informatics Centre, they told us that a bulletin regarding the restriction would be issued on November 15," he said, adding that they are yet to receive any communication.

A bulletin released on November 10 by Lok Sabha Secretary General Utpal Kumar Singh did not have any reference either, another staff pointed out. The Digital Sansad platform, inaugurated on September 1 to bring Parliament closer to the people, allows all citizens to access Parliamentary Papers and Proceedings on their mobile devices. Initially, it allowed members to authorise assistants or secretaries to access the account by submitting their authorised personnel's email IDs and phone numbers to the Lok Sabha Secretariat.

"Now with the Moitra row, MPs can no longer authorise secretaries to access account," said another staff member. "The MPs usually delegate the work to the staff as it's impossible for them to manage everything alone," said a member.

The potential challenge arising from this decision is that lawmakers may not possess equal qualifications or skill sets and are often reliant on their assistants for digital functions. "Except for a few MPs, most are heavily dependent on their staff for drafting questions and other tasks," he added. At least three people pointed out that the new protocol is a 'farce' as most PAs possess the email ID and password of the parliamentarians.

"This is just an eyewash," said a source.

A DIGITAL SHIFT

- The new notification is available on the tab called 'E-Notice' on Digital Sansad
- According to new protocol, PAs can only save notices as drafts. Lawmakers are required to submit them from their accounts
- Neither MPs nor their PA/PS are informed about the protocol change
- Potential challenge is that lawmakers may not possess skill sets and often rely on their aides for digital functions

PM says will ensure grand darshan of Lord Krishna

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

FALLING short of making a formal announcement over the proposed Banke Bihari temple corridor in Vrindavan, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday reassured the people of Braj that he would safeguard the divinity of the region and add grandeur to the 'darshan' of Lord Krishna.

The PM was addressing a gathering in Mathura, while taking part in the ongoing Braj Ruj festival to commemorate the 525th birth anniversary of Meera Bai, the 16th-century Hindu mystic poet known for her devotion to Lord Krishna.

While promising 'bhavya darshan' (magnificent viewing) of Lord Krishna in the land of his birth, the PM mentioned similar corridors built in Kashi Vishwanath in Varanasi, Mahakal in Ujjain and Kedarnath in Uttarakhand. He also mentioned the upcoming Ram temple in Ayodhya, where consecration of the idol of Lord Ram is scheduled on January 22 next year.

"The day is not far when darshan of Krishna would be done with even more 'bhavyata'," the Prime Minister said.

Notably, the PM was expected to make an announcement over Banke Bhari corridor, which got the nod of Allahabad High Court on Monday.

Modi also launched a guarded attack on the Congress party without naming it, saying that the people who always wanted to detach India from its past legacy and rich heritage, tried to alienate it from its culture and spiritual identity. They could not give up the "mentality of slavery" even after independence, he said.

The Prime Minister also released a stamp and a 35 gram coin in the name of Meera Bai on the occasion. "It is in the Amritkaal of independence that the country has freed itself from the mentality of slavery," said Modi.

Modi accused "those people" (opposition read Congress) of categorically neglecting the Brajbhoomi and depriving it of development. He lauded the work done by the Braj Teerath Development Board in Mathura, created by the UP government to facilitate safe and proper darshan of the deity, besides ensuring basic amenities.

Modi also invoked Meera Bai, saying that her family in Rajasthan once sacrificed everything for the protection of the "centres of the religion".

Modi also said that Lord Krishna is the epitome of love and compassion, combined with aggression when it was needed to ensure justice.

He said that whenever the consciousness of the nation came under attack, a 'prakash punj' (light house) stood up and showed the direction to the country. "For this, some became seers, others became warriors," he said.

Armed forces join hands with CSIR to intensify research in defence tech

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

IN a bid to boost research and development in the field of defence technology, a Memorandum of Understanding for technical collaboration and joint research was signed between the Integrated Defence Staff (IDS) headquarters and the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR) on Thursday.

"The agreement between the IDS headquarters and CSIR aims to provide an umbrella framework to initiate collaborative interaction between CSIR Labs, IDS headquarters and Armed Forces — namely Indian Army, Indian Navy and Indian Air Force — to enhance scientific understanding of technologies related to defence and undertake joint research and development in dual-use technologies," the defence ministry said in a statement.

There has been a long-standing push to conduct research and development in defence technologies in India to offset the country's dependence on imported arms and equipment.

The Integrated Defence Staff is the single-point organisation for collaboration in the Ministry of Defence, which integrates policy, doctrine, warfighting and procurement.

The CSIR does Research & Development (R&D) in diverse areas involving science and technology. The organisation has a dynamic network of 37 national laboratories, 39 outreach centres, one innovation complex and three units, with a pan-India presence.

The CSIR's R&D wing comprises about 3,521 scientists, supported by about 4,162 technical and support personnel as of March 31, 2022.

Its wide spectrum of expertise in science and technology ranges from oceanography, geophysics, chemicals, drugs, genomics, biotechnology and nanotechnology to mining, aeronautics, instrumentation, environmental engineering and information technology. It provides significant technological intervention in many areas concerning societal efforts, which include environment, health, drinking water, food, housing, energy, farm and non-farm sectors.

Army Chief on 4-day trip to S Korea, visits cyber command & drone centres

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

CHIEF of the Army Staff (COAS) Gen Manoj Pande, on a four-day official visit to the Republic of Korea (ROK), was on Thursday briefed at the demilitarised zone about the highly sensitive area.

The visit commenced on November 20, a historic day in India-South Korea relations: 73 years back, 60 Para Field Ambulance of the Indian Army landed in Busan on November 20, 1950, to provide much-needed medical support during the Korean War.

"The Army Chief also visited the Cyber Command, where he was briefed on the effective response to the increasingly advanced and sophisticated cyber threats," the Army said on X.

Gen Pande also visited a drone combat unit and also was briefed on the border management and surveillance facility.

The Army Chief's visit is significant from the defence production perspective and the geopolitical shift towards the Indo-Pacific. "The aim is to seek collaboration from South Korea in areas in which they are strong in defence manufacturing," said a defence source.

The Army said the itinerary of the COAS includes interactions with the senior military leadership of the ROK and visits to defence formations and establishments. The highlights of the tour include a bilateral meeting with General Park Ansu, Chief of Staff, ROK Army besides a dialogue with General Kim Seung-kyum, Chairman of Joint Chief of Staff of ROK Armed Forces.

The interactions will be aimed at fostering mutual understanding, exchanging views on regional security situations and contributing to strengthening bilateral defence cooperation, said sources. He also interacted with senior officers of the ROK Army and received briefings on issues of mutual interest. The engagements aimed to foster mutual understanding and contribute to the overarching security architecture of the Indo-Pacific region.

Underlining the significance of Indo-Pacific, Vice-President Jagdeep Dhankhar recently said that much was happening among 38 countries in the region, comprising Africa, Asia and Oceania. "This region is home to 64% of the global population and contributes 62% of the global GDP. Half of the global trade and 40% of oil pass through the Indo-Pacific region. In the context of Bharat, 90% of our trade and 80% of our critical freight needs — coal, petroleum & gas, iron ore and fertilizers — pass through the area," he said.

The scheduled visits of COAS included establishments such as Defence Acquisition Programme Administration, the Korean Army Centre for Future and Innovation and the Agency for Defence Development at Daejeon. KARCFI is an organisation equivalent to DRDO in India.

The COAS also paid tributes to the brave hearts in a solemn wreath-laying ceremony at the War Memorial

The bilateral relationship between the two countries was upgraded to a special strategic partnership after PM Modi's visit in 2015. This visit will reinforce the robust defence ties between both countries.

EC notice to Rahul over 'panauti' remark on PM, seeks his reply by Nov 25

PARVEZ SULTAN @New Delhi

THE Election Commission of India (ECI) on Thursday issued a show cause notice to Congress leader Rahul Gandhi for calling Prime Minister Narendra Modi 'panauti' (bad omen) at an election rally in Rajasthan's Barmer, suggesting that India had lost the ICC World Cup final because of Modi's presence in the stadium.

The poll body also sought an explanation for "wild allegations" made by Gandhi, wherein he had launched an offensive against the PM for "waiving loans of industrialists" and called him a "pickpocket".

Referring to two Supreme Court judgments and another verdict of the Madras High Court on freedom of speech, the ECI asked the Congress leader to respond by Saturday evening. The notice was issued a day after the BJP lodged a complaint against "crass violation of Model Code of Conduct (MCC)" by Congress leaders, including Gandhi.

"You are requested to provide your explanation on the allegations made, and to show cause as to why action as deemed fit for alleged violation of MCC and relevant penal provisions are not initiated by the commission," read the ECI notice, which also states that if Gandhi fails to reply by Saturday evening, action will be taken.

It also drew Gandhi's attention to the rules, which says, "Criticism of other parties or their workers based on unverified allegations or distortion shall be avoided."

At an election rally in Rajasthan on Tuesday, two days after the world cup match, Gandhi said "PM means Panauti Modi." The word 'panauti' had been trending online since the Indian team's defeat at the Ahmadabad stadium, named after Modi.

Keen to collaborate with India on tech, green solutions, says Finland minister

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

INDIA and Finland, with their complementary skills, can work together to find solutions to several global challenges and bring positive outcomes, commented Ville Tavio, Finland's Minister for Development Cooperation and Foreign Trade.

"Between Finland and India, we can find several positive outcomes in the areas of digitisation, education, sustainability and innovation," Tavio told this newspaper.

"I have come with a delegation comprising representatives of companies, which includes mostly technology firms, and some offering green solutions. At the Nordic Baltic convention, we also networked politically and I met commerce minister Piyush Goyal. You may be aware that there are many Finnish companies in India. This includes Kone, which makes elevators, and Nokia, a telecom service provider. Similarly, there are many Indian companies in Finland. We also hope that the Free Trade Agreement (FTA) between India and European Union concludes soon, as it would be mutually beneficial for all the countries involved," Tavio said.

Finland is also looking at supporting sustainability projects that turn waste into energy in India. The country is also seeking collaborations with start-ups.

Meanwhile, Union Commerce Minister Piyush Goyal on Thursday said that the proposed FTA with EU and four nations of the European Free Trade Association (EFTA, comprising Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway and Switzerland) are doable, but they should keep in mind India's interests.

"We are actively engaged in dialogue with the European Union and European Free Trade Association for a Free Trade Agreement. I do believe that both these are eminently doable and will significantly help us expand our engagement not only in trade in goods and services, but also in investments, technology, tourism, innovation and clean energy," said Goyal, while speaking at the Nordic Baltic conference.

Waste-to-energy projects

Finland and India can find several positive outcomes in the areas of digitisation, education, sustainability and innovation, said Ville Tavio. Finland is also looking at supporting sustainability projects that turn waste into energy in India. The country is also seeking collaborations with start-ups, according to Tavio.

SC to hear plea to review same-sex marriage verdict

JAISON WILSON @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday agreed to hear petitions seeking to reconsider its October 17 verdict on same-sex marriages, as the petitioners sought an open court hearing on the matter. The earlier verdict had refused same-sex marriages in the country and left the decision to Parliament.

As senior advocate Mukul Rohatgi, representing the petitioners, mentioned the matter before a bench comprising Chief Justice DY Chandrachud and Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Misra, the bench said it will look into the plea.

Rohatgi told the bench that the review plea needed to be heard in open court to redress the grievances of those seeking validation for same-sex marriages. He said the open court hearing was tentatively listed on November 28.

"Let it not be deleted. Both views, majority or minority, (in the previous bench) have held that there is a discrimination (against LGBTQ+ couples). If there is discrimination, there also has to be a remedy. This is why we have pressed for an open court hearing," he said.

The CJI replied that he has not examined the review petition. "Let me circulate it (among judges of that constitution bench)," he said.

According to Supreme Court procedures, the pleas seeking review of a judgment is considered by judges concerned in their chambers, with no oral submissions from lawyers. However, review pleas in exceptional cases, including the one pertaining to handing down the death penalty, are heard in an open court.

The latest review plea was filed by Udit Sood, one of the 21 petitioners, in the first week of November, assailing the judgment. It said the judgment acknowledged the discrimination against queer couples but "turned them away with best wishes for the future".

On October 17, discussions on the recognition of same-sex marriages and such couples' rights of adoption had reached a legal conundrum in SC, after which the five-judge bench led by the CJI announced 3:2 verdict, which did not favour the queer couples. Instead, it left it for the Parliament to decide.

The bench refused to either strike down the constitutional validity of the Special Marriage Act or read words into the Act because of its "institutional limitations" while declining the right of adoption to the LGBTQIA+ community.

Centre told to set up fresh delimitation commission

The Supreme Court on Thursday directed the Centre to set up a fresh delimitation commission to ensure a proportional representation of the communities specified as Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, as mandated under the Constitution. The bench headed by Chief Justice DY Chandrachud and Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Misra, however, said that it cannot direct Parliament to amend or make laws for giving proper representation to other communities that form part of the STs, as that would amount to "venturing into the legislative domain".

States given 'last chance' to clear salary dues of lower court judges

The apex court granted a last opportunity to the defaulting states and Union Territories on Thursday to clear the salary arrears and other dues of lower court judges in accordance with the recommendations of the Second National Judicial Pay Commission. A three-judge bench noted that some states have not complied with its directions dated May 19 in the matter. "We direct that the directions shall be effected on or before December 8, failing which the chief secretaries of all defaulting states and UTs shall personally be present before this court," it said.

Ignoring Pilot, a Gujjar, an insult to community: PM

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

> A Gujjar son struggles to make his space in politics, gives his life to the party and after coming to power, the royal family removes him like a fly in milk. They did the same with late Rajesh Pilot and are doing the same with his son — Narendra Modi, Prime Minister

ON the last day of campaigning in Rajasthan, Prime Minister Narendra Modi tried to woo the Gujjar votes in a big way. He claimed that Sachin Pilot, who comes from the Gujjar community, was ignored by the Congress top brass, which was an insult to the community.

He expressed his sympathies for Sachin Pilot, saying that Congress' royal family, implying the Gandhis, had sidelined the Gujjar son who is trying to make his space in politics. He argued that the royal family of the Gandhis had deliberately removed Sachin "like a fly from milk." The Gujjar votes are critical in nearly 40 seats of eastern Rajasthan where the BJP had performed poorly in the last election and many believe that it is the Gujjar votes in the eastern zone of the state that could play a major role in the entire verdict of Rajasthan.

Addressing a rally in Rajsamand, the PM said, "A Gujjar son struggles to make his space in politics, gives his life to the party and after coming to power, the royal family removes him like a fly in milk."

"They did the same with late Rajesh Pilot and are doing the same with his son," he said, adding that the Congress has been "insulting" Gujjars in the past. The PM also slammed CM Gehlot for his barbs against Sachin Pilot, who was called a 'nikamma' (incompetent), 'nakara' (useless) and 'gaddar' (traitor) for his revolt of 2020.

Prime Minister Modi had on November 22 accused the Congress of punishing Sachin Pilot after meting out the same treatment to his father Rajesh Pilot, saying anyone who speaks the truth in the party is driven out of politics. Pilot is a prominent Gujjar leader and his community had voted the Congress into power from eastern Rajasthan in the 2018 elections.

Sachin Pilot, who lost his post as state Congress chief and deputy CM for rebelling against Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot in July 2020, has hit back at the Prime Minister after he made similar remarks on Wednesday.

The PM also slammed the Congress for not giving any space on posters and hoardings to its party chief Mallikarjun Kharge, which he said was an insult to Kharge who comes from a Dalit family.

Slamming Congress for corruption in defence deals, the PM also dug out the Bofors scam and various other defence deals to claim that Congress is the "mother of corruption" in the country. He said that Rajasthan has never seen a more "anti-women" government.

Gehlot and Pilot hit back, say bid to misguide Gujjars

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

CM Ashok Gehlot addresses a press conference at PCC headquarters in Jaipur | PTI

'it's evident that the BJP is on the back foot'

On the political scenario behind PM Modi's remarks, Pilot said that when such statements are made, it is evident that the BJP is on the back foot, consistently losing polls, while Congress forms governments. Congress has successfully formed governments in Himachal and Karnataka, it will do the same in MP and Chhattisgarh, he said.

CHIEF Minister Ashok Gehlot and senior Congress leader Sachin Pilot both hit out at Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday for dragging late Rajesh Pilot's name in the Rajasthan elections to "mislead" the Gujjar community.

PM Modi in his election rallies on Wednesday alleged that Sachin Pilot was being victimised because his father Rajesh Pilot had once taken on the Gandhi family in the 1990s.

The PM had also claimed that Sachin's humiliation was an insult to the Gujjar community.

"The Prime Minister's remarks were divorced from reality," said Sachin Pilot. "Late Rajesh Pilot, inspired by Indira Gandhi, joined Congress while serving in the Indian Air Force. He dedicated a significant part of his life to Congress, actively engaging in public service and consistently opposing communal forces in politics," he said.

On PM's comment about his being sidelined in Congress and his political future, Pilot asserted, "As for what he said about me, I believe nobody should worry about my future. Our party and people will take care of that."

Pilot emphasized the enduring bond he had with the Gandhi family. "Our relationship with Sonia Gandhi, Rahul, and Priyanka Gandhi spans decades. I think there's no need for anyone to make statements about it. We are working diligently to strengthen the party."

On the political scenario behind PM Modi's remarks, Pilot said, "When such statements are made, it's evident that the BJP is on the back foot, consistently losing elections, while Congress forms governments. Congress has successfully formed governments in Himachal and Karnataka and where voting has concluded, it will do the same in Madhya Pradesh and Chhattisgarh."

He said such statements are made to divert attention from real issues.

On similar lines, CM Ashok Gehlot too responded, pointing out that it was the BJP government in the state that ordered police firings in 22 instances on Gujjars in which 72 community members were killed during the 2007-08 agitation.

He said it was a Congress government in the state that resolved the Gujjar quota agitation.

With the BJP raking the red diary issue to slam the corrupt deals of the Gehlot government, the CM said there was no evidence.

Gujarat Congress workers up in arms

Gujarat Congress seems to be failing to keep its house in order as former MLA from Gujarat's Bayad constituency Jasubhai Patel has claimed that several party workers have reached neighbouring poll-bound Rajasthan's Kekri constituency to ensure the defeat of former Rajasthan health minister and party candidate Raghu Sharma. According to Patel, workers hold Sharma responsible for the miserable defeat of the party in the 2022 Assembly elections as he was the Gujarat in-charge. Patel alleged that the party's interest was compromised during the ticket distribution.

Union minister upset as senior officers skip event

Union Minister for Communications Devusinh Chauhan was left red-faced when Narmada's district collector, district development officer and district rural development agency gave a miss to an event where he was the chief guest. While addressing the people during the event—Devaratta Yatra—at Tankari village, he came down heavily over the absent officers by saying, "Senior officers believe they are above rules, why is that? We are a democracy, not a monarchy. We visit people and listen to their issues. If elected representatives don't, it will not serve any purpose"

Cong, BJP in war of words over tribal funds

Allegations and counter-allegations flew thick and fast in the tribal belt of central Gujarat between BJP and Congress over the use of Tribal Cooperative Marketing Development Federation of India (TRIFED) fund for the development of the tribals. Moreover, Ramsinh asked Arjunsinh to "come out with facts or stop the deceiving campaign against him".

Who's benefitted from 3 districts created 2 months ahead of elections in MP?

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

THREE new districts were made out of the existing districts in two months (August-September) in Madhya Pradesh ahead of the November 17 assembly elections.

With the polls over now and the counting of votes just 10 days away, the question is who might have benefitted electorally from the creation of the three new districts, which house six assembly seats that could be crucial in the event of a neck and neck battle between the BJP and Congress.

While Mauganj (housing Mauganj and Deotalab seats) was created out of the existing eight seats-strong Rewa district, the Maihar district (housing Maihar and Amarpatan seats) was formed out of the adjoining seven seats-strong Satna district.

Besides these two new districts in the Vindhya region, where 24 out of the 30 seats were won by the BJP in 2018 polls, a new district, Pandhurna (housing the Pandhurna and Sausar seats) neighbouring Nagpur (Maharashtra), was created out of the state's largest district, the seven seats-strong Chhindwara – which since over four decades has been the political pocket-borough of the state Congress chief and the party's CM face in the 2023 polls, Kamal Nath.

Importantly, inputs from ground zero in the three newly created districts suggest that formation of the new districts was hardly any poll issue for most voters in the six seats in the new districts.

If the creation of new Maihar and Mauganj districts failed to become a driving factor for voters in the four seats of the two new districts, then it may not help big politicians in the fray.

Gehlot made jobs disappear by magic, to face defeat: Shah

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Jaipur

Amit Shah with candidate Vishvaraj Singh Mewar in Nathdwara, Rajsamand | PTI

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah on Thursday exuded confidence that the BJP would form the next government in Rajasthan. He attacked the Gehlot government over corruption, exam paper leaks, appeasement politics, and atrocities against women.

"When I came to Rajasthan, some leaders said that 'you need to think carefully and make strategies; Gehlot is a magician as he made jobs disappear by magic.' But now, the public is going to make the Congress government disappear on December 3 by becoming a magician," Shah said.

In a presser in Jaipur on Thursday, the home minister said that women and Dalits were unsafe in the state. "In five years, cases have been registered against more than 2 lakh women, more than 35,000 rape incidents have taken place, and 19 rape cases are being reported every day. Rajasthan alone accounts for 22% of the total rape cases across the country. This is the reason why women of Rajasthan are seen united against the Gehlot government," he said.

Shah also cornered the Gehlot government on the problems of farmers, saying that the land of more than 19,000 farmers was auctioned in the state. "The Gehlot government, which came with the promise of a loan waiver for farmers, could not waive the loans of even 5% of farmers in five years. Dozens of farmers have committed suicide in the state," he alleged.

Attacking the Gehlot government over corruption, he referred to the 'Red Diary.' "It has never happened in the history of independent India that ₹2,35,00,000 cash and 1 kg gold were found in the cupboard of the ministry's vault. No one has ever seen such an attitude towards corruption," said the home minister.

After 21-month detention, J&K journalist freed

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

KASHMIRI journalist and editor of a news portal and news magazine 'The Kashmir Walla' Fahad Shah was released from detention after 21 months and reached his home in Srinagar on Thursday after being granted bail by J&K High Court last week.

Jammu and Kashmir High Court granted bail to Fahad on November 17 in the alleged seditious article case filed against him by J&K Police's State Investigation Agency.

Fahad (34) was arrested on February 4, 2022 under UAPA for alleged wrong reporting about an encounter in Pulwama on January 30 in which four Jaish militants including a top commander Zahid Wani and a Pakistani militant were killed.

The HC quashed charges such as terror conspiracy and waging war against the country of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act and assertions prejudicial to national-integration. He, however, will face trial under Section 13 (abetting unlawful activities) of the UAPA.

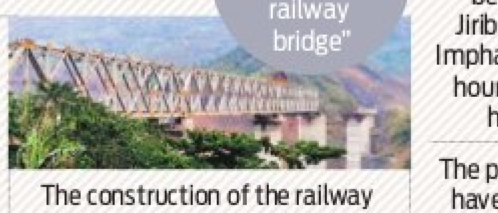
NONEY BRIDGE IS 141 METRES HIGH AND 703 METRES LONG

IT IS A PART OF ₹14,322 crore and 111 km Jiribam-Imphal railway line project



It is set to become world's "highest pier railway bridge"

The construction of the railway project involves 52 tunnels that measure a total of 61.32 km

The bridge will reduce the travel time between Jiribam and Imphal from 12 hours to 2.5 hours

The project will have 11 major bridges and 137 minor bridges

THE construction work of world's tallest railway bridge is nearing completion in Manipur, the Northeast Frontier Railway (NFR) said.

The Noney Bridge, considered an engineering marvel, is being constructed at a height of 141 metres. It is an integral part of the 111 km Jiribam-Imphal railway project.

The construction of the railway project involves multiple tunnels that measure a total of 61.32 km. The project will have 11 major bridges and 137 minor bridges.

"The Jiribam-Imphal new railway line project is one of the crucial connectivity projects for the north-eastern region. The work is at an advanced stage and is nearing completion," NFR chief public relations officer Sabyasachi De said. According to the latest progress card, 80 per cent of the work has been completed.

"Once completed, the bridge will be a testament to human ingenuity and engineering prowess as the sheer magnitude of the structure will be awe-inspiring, symbolising a commitment to overcoming geographical challenges to ensure seamless rail connectivity," De said. Not only connectivity, but the completion of the Noney Bridge and the Jiribam-Imphal railway line project is poised to spur economic development in Manipur and the surrounding regions, he said.

"The efficient transportation of goods and passengers via rail will reduce costs, enhance trade and encourage investment in industries and infrastructure. Additionally, it is likely to create new job opportunities and contribute to the overall prosperity of the region," De said.

He also said that it will serve as a vital artery in the larger plan to integrate the northeastern states with the rest of the country with improved connectivity and is expected to boost trade, tourism and people-to-people interactions, fostering a sense of unity and inclusion.

He added that the constructing of new railway lines to connect the capitals of all states in the Northeast is going on under the capital connectivity project. "The Jiribam-Imphal railway line project is one of the crucial connectivity projects for the northeastern region. Indian Railways is significantly contributing towards transformation of the states in the Northeast by executing several new railway line projects and the Jiribam-Imphal connectivity project plays a vital role in the overall scenario," De said. The piers of the Noney Bridge, which are specially designed, are being constructed using hydraulic augers.

In June last year, at least 14 persons were killed after a massive landslide flattened a railway construction camp in the Noney district. The victims were asleep in their camp when virtually a hill came crashing down on the camp, set up for the Jiribam-Imphal railway line project. National Highway 37 connects Jiribam with Imphal. The road distance between the two places is around 220 km and it takes about 10 to 12 hours to reach from one place to the other.

Not only the condition of the road is bad, landslides too occur often on the stretch, mostly during the monsoon season. The region records frequent rainfall from April to October. There is also the problem of insurgency.

Safety net: C'garh forest dept plans to cover open wells to protect animals

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

LOSS TO WILDLIFE

According to an estimate, 1,500 animals have died after falling into open wells

In one such case in K'taka, a forest official had to descend into 100-ft dry well to rescue a leopard in 2020

In 2017, an elephant was rescued from 20-ft well in C'garh's Surajkund, Surguja forest

Around 55,717 sq km area (42 per cent) of C'garh is under forests

Forest buffer zones here are mostly dotted with uncovered open wells

IN a first, the Chhattisgarh forest department has initiated a move to ensure covering all open wells located in and around the forested terrain to protect wild animals from getting killed or maimed.

In India, hundreds of wild animals, including leopard, jackal, civet, wolf, jungle cat, hyenas, elephant calves and bears, die every year after falling into such open wells.

Several animals sustained enduring disabilities to an extent that they are unfit to be released back into the wild and have to be kept either at a rescue centre or zoo as they cannot fend for themselves.

The decision by the state forest department has been taken in the context of an advisory by the Union Ministry of Environment, Forest & Climate Change (MoEF&CC) asking chief wildlife wardens of all states and Union Territories last year to cover the open wells while stressing the need for the protection of wildlife and construct safety walls. The CEO of Compensatory Afforestation Fund Management and Planning Authority (CAMPA) has written to all chief conservators of forests, forest conservators and DFOs to initiate plans to cover such wells as a safety measure.

"Open wells in and around forests may prove to be a hazard to vulnerable wildlife. Animals suffer serious injuries if they fall into it. The rescue and treatment process in such instances become too cumbersome. So it is essential to safeguard the wildlife by covering all such open wells and necessary action be initiated," said an official circular of the forest department.

The required budgetary demand for the works related to cover the open wells are to be raised under Annual Plan Operation of the CAMPA.

Gaza ceasefire, hostage release delayed, set to begin from today

Delay due to last-minute details over which hostages would be freed

GAZA STRIP

A four-day pause in the Israel-Hamas war in Gaza will start on Friday morning and an exchange of hostages and prisoners will follow hours later, mediator Qatar said.

The ceasefire agreement facilitated by Qatar with help from Egypt and the United States had been due to take effect on Thursday but was delayed after a last-minute hitch.

An official said the delay was due to "last minute" details over which hostages would be released and how.

"The pause will begin at 7.00 am (0500 GMT) on Friday... and the first batch of 13 civilian hostages will be handed over at approximately 4.00 pm (1400 GMT)," Qatari foreign ministry spokesperson Majed Al Ansari said Thursday.

Thirteen people would be freed initially, all women and children from the same families, Ansari told a news conference in Doha.

Palestinian prisoners held in Israeli jails would also be released on Friday, he said, adding a list of inmate names had been approved, without saying how many. Ansari said "the skies will be clear" of drones for a period of time to "allow for the hostage release to happen in a safe environment".

Israel and Hamas had announced a deal on Wednesday allowing at least 50 hostages and scores of Palestinian prisoners to be freed during the ceasefire. "Obviously every day will include a number of civilians as agreed to total 50 within the four days," the Qatari spokesperson said. "During these four days, information will be collected about the rest of the hostages to consider the possibility of more releases and thus extending the pause," he added.

Commenting on the pause, Ansari said it entailed "a complete ceasefire... with no attacks from the air or the ground," adding that he hoped "there will be no violations".

The ceasefire deal is to take effect in stages that can be extended and broadened. It is also intended to provide aid to Gaza's 2.4 million residents.

"The agreement, it still... stands and as was agreed upon," Ansari said. The armed wing of Hamas, the Ezzedine al-Qassam Brigades, on Thursday confirmed that a truce would begin on Friday, accompanied by the "cessation of all military actions from the Qassam Brigades and the Palestinian resistance" during the truce.

RAIDS AT PROPERTIES OF HAMAS BACKERS

Hundreds of police officers searched the properties of Hamas members and followers in Germany on Thursday morning following a formal ban on any activity by or in support of the militant group. The German government implemented the ban on November 2 and dissolved Samidoun, a group that was behind a celebration in Berlin of Hamas attack on Israel. Germany's domestic intelligence service estimates that Hamas has around 450 members in the country. Their activities range from expressions of sympathy and propaganda activities to financing and fundraising activities to strengthen the organisation

GDP growth likely to be around 7% in Q2: Experts

Projection surpasses MPC's estimations of 6.5% for same period

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

EXPERTS anticipate the gross domestic product (GDP) growth rate to moderate slightly to 6.9%-7.0% in the second quarter of the current financial year (Q2FY24) from 7.8% in Q1FY24 on account of global slowdown, erratic monsoon and base effect.

This projection surpasses the estimations made by the RBI's policy making body Monetary Policy Committee (MPC), which had forecasted a growth rate of 6.5% for the same period. The government will announce the Q2 GDP numbers by the end of this month.

According to the credit rating agency ICRA, the gross value added (GVA) growth is also expected to ease to 6.8% in the second quarter of the current financial year from 7.8% in the first quarter.

The services sector is predicted to contribute significantly to this growth, with an estimated growth rate of 8.2% (compared to 10.3% in Q1 FY24).

The agriculture sector is expected to witness a slowdown, projecting a growth rate of 1.0% in Q2 FY24 (down from 3.5% in Q1FY24). However, the industry sector is forecasted to improve, with a growth rate of 6.6% (compared to 5.5% in Q1FY24).

Aditi Nayar, chief economist, head-research & outreach at ICRA Ltd, noted that the moderation in GDP growth for Q2FY24 is likely due to a normalising base and erratic monsoon patterns.

"A normalising base and an erratic monsoon are expected to result in a sequential moderation in the GDP growth to 7% in Q2FY24 from 7.8% in Q1FY24. Regardless, we anticipate that the GDP expansion in this quarter will exceed the Monetary Policy Committee's October 2023 projection of 6.5%," Nayar said.

According to her, these factors include uneven rainfall, narrowing differentials with year-ago commodity prices, a potential slowdown in government capital expenditure as parliamentary elections approach, weak external demand, and the cumulative effects of monetary tightening.

As a result, the rating agency maintained its GDP growth estimate for FY24 at 6.0%, which is lower than the MPC's projection of 6.5% for the current financial year.

Meanwhile, Paras Jasrai, Senior Analyst, India Ratings and Research said, "The q2 GDP growth would be getting a boost from the net exports front. The moderation in q2 (6.9%) compared to 7.8% YoY in q1 would be emanating from the consumption demand due to spike in inflation in the same period."

Gen-AI to shape future: Chandrasekaran

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Chennai

TATA SONS Executive Chairman N Chandrasekaran said many technologies should come together in order for artificial intelligence (AI) and robotics to come together, adding otherwise what they could do is limited.

"Every advancement in technology like the internet, robotics, artificial intelligence, cloud computing, blockchain technology all are breakthroughs. But every breakthrough technology immediately doesn't get adopted in mass scale. Because technology needs something else in order to be adopted. I studied artificial intelligence (and robotics) as a course in my Master's 35 years ago. Nothing happened. It requires storage and processing power, it requires cloud computing, a mobile network," he said.

"Is generative AI going to take jobs? How to read this thing? Is it real or another tech hype?" he quiped.

Generative AI is a very powerful technology and it will be instrumental in shaping the future, he said adding it would be difficult to ascertain when it will happen.

He was speaking at the 45th anniversary of PKF Sridhar and Santhanam LLP at Chennai on Thursday. He said India has a robust digital technology ecosystem, large and young talent, favourable demographics, digital infrastructures at scale like Aadhaar. It positions us better in leveraging other technologies, he added.

Chandrasekaran talked about challenges like geopolitical issues, pandemic-induced supply chain disruption, global economic growth and disruptions from emerging technologies like AI. After the cold war era, the world was more or less stabilised and predictable but many things changed in the last few years, he remarked.

"We have not done badly. Year ago everyone thought world was going into recession." Talking about conflicts in Ukraine and Gaza, he said irrespective of the situation the transition towards sustainable energy will get accelerated. India is in a remarkable position in economic growth, execute supply chain and manufacturing aspirations and best placed in all transitions, he said.

IREDA, Tata Tech, Gandhar, Flair IPOs get huge response

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE initial public offerings (IPOs) of four companies, launched this week, have received huge response from the investors.

These public issues are of Indian Renewable Energy Development Agency (IREDA), Tata Technologies, Gandhar Oil, and Flair Writing Industries.

Public sector undertaking Indian Renewable Energy Development Agency (IREDA) received a strong response and was subscribed 38.80 times by the end of Thursday, the final day of bidding. Investors placed bids for 1,827 crore equity shares against the offer size of 47 crore shares. The other ongoing IPOs such as Tata Technologies Ltd and Gandhar Oil registered a big surge in booking on their second day of subscription.

The buying for IREDA's public issue was led by the qualified institutional buyers (QIBs) as they bought 104.57 times more than the allotted quota. IREDA has reserved 50% of the offer for QIBs and 15% for HNIs. The remaining 35% for retail investors was booked 7.73 times their allotted quota. The ₹2,150 crore offer comprises a fresh issue of 40.31 crore equity shares worth ₹1,290.13 crore and an offer-for-sale of 26.87 crore shares worth ₹860.08 crore by the government.

Most brokerages have given a subscribe rating to IREDA's IPO owing to consistent growth in loan books, healthy return ratios, and varied financial products. "At the upper price band of ₹32, IREDA is available at a P/B of 1.4x (FY23), which is at a discount to its peers. With consistent growth in loan books, healthy return ratios, and varied financial products, IREDA is well-placed to capitalise on the growth in the RE sector. We assign a "Subscribe" rating on a medium- to long-term basis," said analysts at Geogit Financial Services.

Investors remained bullish on the Tata Technologies IPO as it was booked 14.85 times by day 2. Gandhar IPO was subscribed 15.25 times on the second day, while Flair Writing Industries IPO was subscribed 6.11 times. The issue of Fedbank Financial Services IPO was subscribed 90% on Thursday.

Data shared with account aggregators safe: FM

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE customer data shared with account aggregators (AA) is completely safe in India, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said on Thursday.

Concerned over the slow movement of the AA scheme, the minister said, "It can be better, which means either the building of awareness exercises are not sufficient, adequate or there is a need for simplification of technology."

Both public and private, have reviewed it and they have become a member or a part of this account aggregators working, and it has actually helped, she said at the 'DATE with Tech' event here. She stressed that the enthusiasm of the banks has to be accentuated, only then that the scheme will reach every customer.

Sitharaman also stressed upon the importance of prudent lending practices and adherence to core banking principles in the context of digital transformation.

The statement comes in the backdrop of Reserve Bank of India (RBI) cautioning non-banking financial companies (NBFCs) and small finance banks (SFBs) against excessive lending. The RBI recently directed lenders to consider risks while pricing loans and raised risk weights for consumer and NBFC loans.

"The RBI has alerted NBFCs and SFBs to be careful so that they don't go too far too soon and face downsides risks. We have been after state-owned banks to focus on their core business, their banking business, which is to collect deposits, and lend, and earn money out of lending, and giving more returns to people keeping their savings ," Sitharaman said while addressing a press conference at Digital Acceleration & Transformation Expo 2023. This week, the apex bank had also increased risk weights for consumer and NBFC loans to limit the growth in unsecured loans.

NCLT extends insolvency process of Go First by 90 days effective Nov 6

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) on Thursday extended the Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process (CIRP) of the grounded airline Go First by 90 days. The extension, effective from 6 November this year, will end on 4 February, 2024.

The tribunal dismissed the airline's lessors' objections against the extension and asked the resolution professional (RP) of the airline to submit a 90-day action plan. It said the resolution plan should be completed within the stipulated time period. The extension comes as a relief for Go First and its stakeholders amid report that billionaire Naveen Jindal-backed Jindal Power Ltd (JLP) has decided not to go ahead with its plan to bid for the airline.

The RP of the airline told the NCLT that there is one prospective bidder for the airline, which could not submit the resolution plan at the end of November 21 deadline. He added that the committee of creditors (CoC) is now reconsidering the next course of action for the airline. The tribunal told the RP that if the insolvency process is not completed within the new timeframe, it may order liquidation proceedings.

Promoted by the Wadia-family, budget carrier Go First stopped flying on May 3, a day after it filed for bankruptcy. A severe financial crisis due to non-supply of engines by Pratt & Whitney (P&W) that led to the grounding of about half of its fleet forced them to take this extreme step, the airline had told.

Experts said Jindal's decision to back off from buying the grounded airline is a big setback to the creditors who were hoping for a recovery of their dues. The recent amendment to insolvency rules which allows aircraft lessors to take back planes has significantly reduced Go First's equity value.

Earlier this month, the RP of Go First told the NCLT that ₹28,558 crore of claims has been received by the creditors. Of this amount, 19% of the claims have been admitted so far. The Central Bank of India, Bank of Baroda, IDBI Bank and Deutsche Bank are among the top creditors to the airline.

Crypto exchange Binance's CEO steps down after pleading guilty

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

After the FTX fiasco, the cryptocurrency industry is in focus again as the world's largest crypto exchange Binance's founder-CEO Changpeng Zhao has stepped down after pleading guilty to breaking US anti-money laundering laws.

This will impact Indian investors since many investors have moved on to foreign exchanges such as Binance to trade, post-tax implementation. Sumit Gupta, Co-founder & CEO, CoinDCX said the larger crypto ecosystem is not just about trading and what happens at centralized exchanges across the globe. It is imperative to acknowledge the resilience exhibited by the web3 and virtual digital assets industry.

"The Web3 and blockchain space continues to grow tremendously and there has been a wide scale adoption amongst many Web2 companies now of the underlying technology as well. The dynamic nature of this space means it will continue to evolve, with a steadfast commitment to innovation, compliance, and overall sustainability," he said.

Recently, Esya Centre in its report said the current crypto tax structure may lead to a loss of Rs 99.3 lakh crore of local exchange trade volume in the next four years.

Trade volume of around ₹32,000 crore was shifted from domestic VDA exchanges to foreign ones during February-October 2022, it said.

"Recent developments deliver a resounding message to the entire crypto industry: compliance is now a top priority. This signals a significant shift, indicating that while the technology has matured, the obstacles are gradually being overcome," Neeraj Khandelwal, Co-founder CoinDCX & Okto, said.

On X, Changpeng Zhao said, "Today, I stepped down as CEO of Binance. Admittedly, it was not easy to let go emotionally. But I know it is the right thing to do. I made mistakes, and I must take responsibility. This is best for our community, for Binance, and for myself."

When Binance first launched, it did not have compliance controls adequate for the company that it was quickly becoming, and it should have. Binance grew at an extremely fast pace globally, in a new and evolving industry that was in the early stages of regulation, and Binance made misguided decisions along the way. Today, Binance takes responsibility for this past chapter, the exchange said in a statement.

Hybrid MFs attract ₹72K cr in seven months

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

Hybrid mutual fund schemes attracted more than ₹72,000 crore in the past seven months, following a change in taxation for debt funds and huge inflow experienced in the arbitrage category.

Hybrid funds typically invest in a combination of equity and debt securities and sometimes in other asset categories such as gold. The category has been attracting regular inflows since April after a change in taxation for debt funds that kicked off in the same month. Before that, the segment saw a net withdrawal of ₹12,372 crore in March.

As per the latest data with the Association of Mutual Funds in India (Amfi), hybrid schemes saw an inflow of ₹9,907 crore in October. These funds had attracted ₹62,174 crore in the April-September period.

With this, total inflow has reached ₹72,081 crore in the first seven months of the current financial year. Of ₹72,081 crore, a massive amount of ₹48,978 crore inflow was seen in the arbitrage category, data showed. This category funds appeal more to investors with a moderate or low-risk profile.

EXPANSION MODE

PIZZAEXPRESS EYES 100 OUTLETS IN INDIA IN 3-5 YEARS

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE
@Bengaluru

LEADING gourmet pizzeria chain PizzaExpress plans to expand its India footprint, opening 100 outlets over the next 3-5 years, from the current 26.

The UK-based brand opened its 100th global outlet, in India -- at Phoenix Mall of Asia in Bengaluru – this week, and will open three more in the country by the end of this calendar year (one in Indiranagar, Bengaluru, and two in Chandigarh). PizzaExpress' 26 operational restaurants are spread across eight cities -- Delhi, Gurugram, Noida, Lucknow, Pune, Mumbai, Hyderabad and Bengaluru. With the expansion, it will foray into Chennai, Kolkata, Guwahati, Shillong, Bhubaneswar, Ahmedabad, Surat, Vadodara, Mangaluru, and Visakhapatnam, eyeing presence in high-street, mall, and CBD locations, among others.

This year alone, the company -- which operates in India through master franchisee Gourmet Investments -- saw Rs 50 crore investment, and is looking to invest about Rs 200 crore more, for future development, in the coming years.

Explaining the company's strategy for India, PizzaExpress International and Channel Director Chris Holmes said, "Our ambition is to bring the very best pizza to customers across the globe. Rather than one outlet at a time, our team is investing in clusters. For instance, you go to Bengaluru, you open five restaurants. The assets become a market by themselves. It's a great model for us as a brand."

The first PizzaExpress in India, opened in Colaba, Mumbai, in 2012. In 2021, a new concept was adopted for the brand, in Gurugram, involving a new restaurant design, and positioning, while still adhering to its 'Britalian' ethos.

Today, the brand has 475 restaurants across the world, of which 375 are in the UK and Ireland, and 100 are global outlets spread across 13 other countries. A global outlet adapts to local market needs, but is still within the family. "There are certain principles. You will still find marble, beautiful artwork and design, all very much a part of PizzaExpress," Holmes told TNIE.

Chris Holmes

Meanwhile, globally, the menu is split into three parts – a core menu, found at every outlet; a 'house of brands' -- 30-40 products, which are pizza properties on the menu. Specific geographies may choose items from this range as required for their customers; and lastly, 20-30% of the menu is localised to a particular market. "In India, you may see a Tandoori Chicken pizza, because you have to be relevant to the Indian palate. However, you don't need to shift your core. We take pride in being different, yet being relevant," Gourmet Investments Chairman and Director Ramit Bharti Mittal said.

According to reports, the Indian pizza market is valued at Rs 20,000 crore, with an 18% CAGR. This is dominated by the QSR space, but the modern, well-traveled and aspirational Indian consumer demands less for more, expecting quality and a better experience, Gourmet Investments COO and Director Ajay Singhal concluded.

Stokes to miss IPL 2024, confirms CSK

England all-rounder Ben Stokes will miss the 2024 edition of the Indian Premier League (IPL) due to workload management, his franchise Chennai Super Kings announced on Thursday. Stokes joined CSK ahead of IPL 2023 but played in only two matches as he was managing a knee injury throughout the course of the two-month long tournament.

Despite not having an ICC silverware to show, role clarity & ideology have been big positives of the Rahul-Rohit regime in the last 2 years

THE LEGACY OF TWO Rs

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

India captain Rohit Sharma and coach Rahul Dravid had a dream run during the WC

DURING Rohit Sharma's prematch press conference on the eve of the final, the skipper got intimate about the brand of cricket the team was playing under him. Creating a 'brand (of cricket) is important', he had said. "If you have decided something, we have to go and implement that. I thought the guys have implemented that... you can see with the scores...

"I am pleased with the messaging that myself and (coach) Rahul (Dravid) have given to the boys and the boys have responded to that pretty well."

Ultimately, that's the legacy that this regime will leave behind for the next combination, if, as expected, Dravid doesn't renew his contract (it expired after the World Cup). A clear role clarity with a well defined ideology. "Without worrying about their place in the team, without worrying about the scores they get and without worrying about what happens outside... this is the most important part," Rohit continued. "The environment that we have created is a very special one and we want to maintain that environment as long as possible and not get fazed by what happens outside or what people of if the score doesn't come from individuals."

A couple of examples. Suryakumar Yadav was backed in the second biggest format despite the clamour for names like Sanju Samson. Shreyas Iyer, feeling the pinch, was backed as the No. 4, rather than going for somebody like Ishan Kishan in the middle-order. Identifying Gill as the natural successor at the top. India's 50-overs reset did have its problems but it's now in a better place because players have been allowed to play with freedom without thinking about the cost of a failure while pursuing a particular method.

Now, it's true that out of more than 25 players who have debuted across all three formats since the duo were appointed to their respective posts in November 2021, only one, Gill, is sure of a place when fit irrespective of the format. So, in that sense, they haven't really overseen a transition (that's probably going to be the job of the next coach) but that's kind of missing the point. When Rohit and Rahul came on immediately after the T20 World Cup in the desert, the needs were different. They tinkered with the line-up, pricked and prodded with a new methodology in white-ball cricket (for a period of time, even Virat Kohli was taken in with 'go-big-or-go-home practice that Rohit has assumed) before getting the necessary but in. Out of the 15 biggest innings totals set in international 50-over cricket since the beginning of 2022, India have posted the six highest totals. After being accused of being a one-trick pony for years, they have put in place the building blocks necessary. They may not have delivered the World Cup but they have shown India that they are equipped to play this way. "We had a clear message and they were ready to accept it," Rohit had said after he took charge in 2021. "If the messages are clear from the captain and the coach, individuals will try and do that. For that, they need freedom and clarity which is what we are trying to do. We are trying to give them as much freedom as possible."

The freedom and role clarity were mentioned by multiple players and support staff right through the World Cup. KL Rahul spoke eloquently about it. Mohammed Siraj touched on the subject. Bowling coach Paras Mhambrey addressed it... you get the drift.

Going forward, Indian cricket is all set to embrace a modern approach with multiple leadership groups across formats. It's expected that Hardik Pandya will lead the side in the next ICC event (T20 World Cup next year). Rohit, though, may retain control of the Test team at least for the immediate future.

Velavan, Anahat toast of national squash

KALYANI MANGALE @Chennai

THERE is a wooden honours board hanging behind the main court at the Squash Rackets Federation of India's campus in Chennai. It's not easily visible, and there are only two names on that board, Joshna Chinappa and Dipika Pallikal Karthik, as the winners of the National Championship since 2012. On Thursday, Anahat Singh added her name to that honours board with a victory over Tanvi Khanna, as the latter was unfortunately forced to forfeit the final due to a knee injury after taking the first game.

"I am happy I could play well till the finals. The final didn't go the way we wanted because my opponents ended up getting injured. I hope we could have finished the match," Singh, 15, told this daily after becoming the youngest national champion since Chinappa won it as a 14-year-old in 2000. Before becoming one of the youngest Asian Games medal winners, bronze in both women's team and mixed doubles events, Singh was creating headlines as a 14-year-old to represent India in the Commonwealth Games. "The Asian Games were similar to what the Commonwealth Games were in terms of being around the top athletes, but I won two medals in China, so I will never forget that experience," she added.

Meanwhile, Velavan Senthilkumar bagged the men's title, beating Abhay Singh 12-10, 11-3, 12-10 in the final. In the rematch of the final from the previous year, the 25-year-old came victorious after a strong tussle in the first and the final game. "I was focussing on my fitness before the tournament, physically and mentally. I wanted to be in a good place where I could perform. Today, I had to focus on every single point, rather than thinking about the whole match. And that's what helped me," he mentioned.

In the first national championship since the inclusion of squash in the Olympics, athletes believe they now have a bigger goal, but at the same time, there are many years to reach Los Angeles 2028. "There are still five years for the Olympics. And it's a big tournament and I will need to train for it early, but for now, I am still playing juniors and I will think about them when the time comes," Singh added. Velavan echoed the sentiments and added," I am happy that squash is in the Olympics. For now, I am focussed on the next tournament."

Cyrus Poncha, secretary-general of the SRFI, was happy with how the tournament panned out. "It went smoothly so we are delighted with how the tournament went. Our academy has been here in Chennai for 23 years. We have done many events here so always happy to conduct these events," he added with delight.

With the success in the Asian Games, where India bagged five medals, including two gold, the country has renewed interest in the game. Poncha detailed what went behind the scenes in the planning for these medals. "It was a long journey for us. Last year we did well in the Commonwealth Games and we put a lot of thought into the Asian Games as well. We could get a foreign coach and hold camps here thanks to help from HCL and the Tamil Nadu government. That has also helped us bring national and international events to Chennai. It has been a massive effort from SAI and the sports ministry, too,"

For the Dronacharya Awardee, LA 2028 addition was like a dream come true but at the same time, he is also aware of the work that will go to make all the efforts towards the podium finish in the Olympics.

"With the inclusion of squash in the Olympics, we also have something to look forward to. We have waited for 20 years for the inclusion and now that has happened we cannot be more happier. Squash in India is rising with all the performances we have been doing over the last decade, so the inclusion is going to help a lot. There is going to be a lot of time and effort involved in it. It's all a stepping stone towards all that needs to be done. We are working towards the program, hoping it will fall into place soon," he signed off.

Oz tactics were spot on in final, says Ashwin

AGENCIES @Mumbai

DAYS after the loss in the World Cup final, seasoned off-spinner R Ashwin has revealed he was shell-shocked by Australia's decision to bowl first in the final last Sunday, but also praised Pat Cummins and selector George Bailey for reading the pitch at Ahmedabad perfectly.

Ashwin explained why he was surprised by Australia's tactics, but also added that India becoming a 'cricket hub' of the world due to the number of bilateral series as well as the Indian Premier League gave the overseas players insights into pitches and conditions. "I was checking out if the pitch was disintegrating at the mid innings and I met George Bailey, the chairman of selectors and asked 'why didn't you guys bat first like you always do after winning the toss?'," he said.

"For that he answered back, 'we have played IPL and bilateral series for a long time now, and in our experience, the red soil disintegrates, but the black soil gets better to bat on under the lights'," Ashwin said.

SKY fires before Rinku finishes, India take lead

AGENCIES @Visakhapatnam

DESPITE Josh Inglis' cracking century that took Australia to a healthy 208/3, Suryakumar Yadav (80) and Ishan Kishan (58) smashed fifties before Rinku Singh (22) helped India secure a thrilling last over victory in the first T20I on Thursday.

Skipper Yadav's decision to bowl first on a batting featherbed turned out to be a nightmare for the inexperienced attack. They were taken to the cleaners by Inglis (110 off 50 balls), who hit as many as eight sixes, half a dozen of them off googly bowler Ravi Bishnoi. The century, his first across international formats, came off 47 balls and there were 11 boundaries as well, including an audacious reverse sweep off pacer Arshdeep Singh (0/41 in 4 overs) and an arrogant slash over point off the same bowler. Only pacer Mukesh Kumar (0/29 in 4 overs) held his own amid onslaught from both ends.

Suryakumar Yadav scored 80 off 42 to help India win by two wickets | PTI

The stockily built keeper-batter, brimming with confidence of an altogether different level, took a special liking for Bishnoi (1/54 in 4 overs), who for the first time looked exposed due to his one-dimensional skill-set of consistently bowling fast googlies, with an occasional straighter one slipped in between. Inglis had the seasoned Steve Smith (52 off 41 balls) for company as the former skipper kept nudging and pushing apart from his eight boundaries in a stand of 130. Brief score: Australia 208/3 in 20 ovs (Inglis 110, Smith 52) lost to India 209/8 in 19.5 ovs (Surya 80).

Vijay Hazare: Bazith hits fifty, guides Kerala home

AGENCIES @Alur

KERALA went through some struggles before eking out a three-wicket win over Saurashtra in a Group A game of the Vijay Hazare Trophy at Alur-KSCA Oval in Bengaluru.

Courtesy a gritty 98 off 121 balls by Vishvarajsinh Jadeja, Saurashtra recovered from a precarious 65/7 to post a competitive 185 under cloudy skies on a freshly-laid pitch. Debutant Akhin took 4 for 39 for Kerala to rock their opponents top order, generating good pace and bounce. Kerala nearly messed up the chase and were at 61/4 in the 17th over, but a composed fifty by Abdul Bazith (60) and an unbeaten 21 by Shreyas Gopal carried them past target with 14 balls to spare. In a Group C match, Ishant Sharma (3/30), his younger colleague Harshit Rana (4/17) and leg-spinner Suyash Sharma (3/19) combined to bowl out Bihar for 149. Skipper Yash Dhull and openers Anuj Rawat and Priyansh Arya made well-timed knocks as Delhi cantered to the target in just over 22 overs. For Karnataka, openers Mayank Agarwal (157) and Ravikumar Samarth (123) fired in tandem to make big hundreds as Karnataka started their campaign with a big 222-run win over Jammu and Kashmir. Select results: Saurashtra: 185 all out in 49.1 ovs (Vishvarajsinh 98, Akhin 4/39) lost to Kerala 188/7 in 47.4 ovs (Abdul 60; Ankur 4/50); Bihar 149 all out in 39 ovs (Ishant 3/30, Harshit 4/17, Suyash Sharma 3/19) lost to Delhi 150/2 in 22.1 ovs (Dhull 46 n.o); Karnataka 402/2 in 50 ovs (Mayank 157, Samarth 123) bt J&K 180 all out in 30.4 ovs (Yudhvir 64; Vysakh 4/57); Manipur 203 in 50 ovs lost to Hyderabad 208/5 in 29.5 ovs (Rahul 70); Andhra 206 in 47.3 ovs (Nithish 47; Vaibhav 3/23) lost to HP 212/3 in 43.3 ovs (A R Kumar 78 n.o; A P Vashisht 53).

REMARKABLE RUN

Coach Sangwan continues to sing the Haryana song

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

LIKE any player starting his career, Sandeep Sangwan also dreamt of playing for India and winning medals for the country. But before that, the hockey midfielder wanted to help his state, Haryana, finish on the podium at the national championships. Starting in 1987 with the sub-junior team, Sandeep, who hails from Sonepat, tried to turn his dream into reality for almost two decades but to no avail.

In the meantime, he went on to play for Delhi, All India Universities and ONGC apart from Haryana and even won the Junior National Hockey Championship for Delhi in 1995. Incidentally, they defeated Haryana in the final to be crowned champions. Unfortunately, he never managed to win medals for Haryana during his playing days.

That unfulfilled dream must have stayed with him even when he switched to coaching in the mid 2000s. As luck would have it, he got yet another chance to live his dream, this time as a coach when he was handed the reins of the Haryana team in 2010. And he did the unthinkable in his maiden stint as a Haryana coach as the team comprising Sardar Singh and Sandeep Singh went on to lift the Senior National Championship title in 2011. Since then, Sandeep, 47, has won titles at the national tournaments with the latest coming at the 2023 National Games in Goa, probably making him the only hockey coach in the country to achieve the feat. The title is Haryana's first at the National Games. "Ever since I started coaching, the dream was to win national titles for Haryana and ONGC, which I couldn't as a player. It gives me immense pleasure that I managed to achieve it," Sangwan told this daily. Haryana senior men's team was considered underdogs and had achieved nothing to take note of before 2011. Sangwan's arrival not only saw them lifting the senior title but also qualifying for the 2015 National Games, where they finished with a bronze medal. "We used to be a good team at junior level but the senior side was a pushover. But it changed once Sunil Malik came on board as an office-bearer of Hockey Haryana. He gave me the freedom to revamp the team and changes were visible as we started winning at the national level."

From no title till 2010, Haryana men went on to win the senior national championship twice (2011 and 2022) apart from a bronze and a gold medal in the junior national championships in 2015 and 2023 respectively. Sangwan also got the command of the junior women's team in 2019 for a brief period and they finished second in the national championship. "Around 90 players from my teams went on to play for India and around 200 got government jobs in the last 13 years. I decided to end my career as a player early as I knew it would be difficult to target bigger goals with dual responsibility. It gives me immense satisfaction that the sacrifice has started paying dividends," said the FIH Level 3 coach.

SPACE-TECH STARTUP AGNIKUL wants to address on-demand rockets from small sats

VAITHEESWARAN B @Chennai

CHENNAI-BASED space tech startup Agnikul Cosmos is attempting cheaper and faster space transportation for smaller satellites operators. After multiple fundraising pitches, its co-founders Srinath Ravichandran and Moin SPM mastered to cut rocket jargons and use ride-sharing and OTT analogies to describe their technology and work.

They now plan to send affordable orbital class rockets for micro and nano satellites within a short time frame of 15 days. "We are attempting on-demand launches, basically no ride-sharing. The launches will be mission-specific, driven by individual demand," said Moin SPM. Usually, big rockets offer competitive prices due to volume advantage. But, small satellite players are priced the same, irrespective of the weight. Explaining the market demand for sending small satellites independently, he said satellites weighing less than 100 kg are typically charged at the rate of $60,000- 70,000 per kg.

However, it is an unconventional business as there are a lot of uncertainties around when and how satellites will be launched. Also, there could be compatibility issues with interference from other satellite systems. "It is like a crowded bus and you don't know when you will be pushed out. Also, bigger vehicles take you to a particular orbit, but it may not be your destination. You have to take in-space propulsion, space tug to reach the final destination. You have to spend on launch, space tug and ride sharing aggregators," said Moin.

According to Ravichandran, there is a clear need for people who want to control the time of the mission. He said their service will be priced much lower than the current scenario.

3D-printed rocket engine and components at its facility | EXPRESS

The IIT Madras-incubated startup has so far raised $41 million in four rounds and is gearing up for two development launches - to validate and improve its rockets. The first launch is expected by the end of this year and the commercial rocket liftoff by the second half of 2024. The duo decided to launch private rockets for small satellites in 2016 when there was no regulatory approval or a clear policy. Since space tech is known to be capital-intensive, convincing investors is a tough task. So, they decided to be capital-efficient and innovate. They developed 3D printing of semi-cryogenic engines as a single-component consisting of igniters, injectors, cooling channels, combustion channels, and nozzle mounts, thereby avoiding the traditional way of using thousands of components.

The startup also opened the country's first private launching pad and mission control room at Sriharikota near ISRO's facility last year. They collaborated with IIT Madras and ISRO and received Flight Termination System from ISRO, the first time a PSLV package was delivered for a private vehicle. Innovation on the tech has cut cost and time compared to conventional mfg of rocket engine, said Ravichandran, who is also the chief executive of the firm. Agnikul rockets will be ready in two weeks (it would take 12-16 weeks in conventional process) and also save 8-10X in costs, according to its founders. "What we're attempting is very different. It is not a sounding rocket; it is called a vertical ascent control vehicle. It lifts off vertically, and goes to a certain height," said Ravichandran.

The next gen AI toothbrush is here

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

Emerging technologies are being used in different use cases and this time, generative AI has found its way into toothbrush and oral healthcare. Top companies are now making use of Gen AI to track how people brush their teeth and real-time inputs are displayed immediately. This AI brush knows exactly how you clean your teeth. Apart from analysing your brushing, it also guides you.

Oral-B's AI toothbrush tracks your brushing style and also alerts if you are not brushing enough. It provides personalised feedback so that one can improve brushing and focus on oral healthcare. Oral-B claims that its AI-powered oral scrubber has been trained through many volunteers to assess different brushing styles.

There are 3D-printed and hands-free brushing tools that help consumers to maintain their oral hygiene. Experts opine that the integration of AI technology in toothbrushes can create a disruptive opportunity in the health and wellness space. According to Oral-B, 80% of people miss at least one area of their mouth when brushing. Also, this toothbrush uses sensors that can detect whether one applies too much pressure or not brushing enough in a certain spot.

Roy Jakobs, CEO, Royal Philips, was in Bengaluru recently to open the company's new innovation campus and he explained how gen AI plays a role in different use cases including oral healthcare. Philips Sonicare uses AI to analyse the brushing behaviour. Last year, Sonicare range of electric toothbrushes was launched in India and it features advanced sonic technology.

Last month Colgate Palmolive launched trials of its gen AI chatbot. Experts say long-standing companies have now started using innovation, data and analytics in health and hygiene products so that they can retain and also better serve their customers.
